Chinese biz visitor slams city's bad roads, garbage dumps

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER numerous complaints from people and industry leaders, a Chinese business visitor has now slammed Bengaluru for its pathetic roads and garbage dumps all over.

The investor was visiting Biocon Park and shared his experience with Biocon founder and Executive Chairperson Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw. Shaw, who has time and again expressed dissatisfaction over failed infrastructure in Bengaluru, shared the Chinese business visitor's remark on her social media account.

She posted on X, "I had an overseas business visitor to Biocon Park who said, 'Why are the roads so bad, and why is there so much garbage around? Doesn't the Govt want to support investment? I have just come from China and can't understand why India can't get its act together, especially when the winds are favourable?"

She tagged Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, DCM DK Shivakumar and IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge, urging them to take immediate action. The post has gone viral since it was posted on Monday and has been seen by over 6.5 lakh people. She wrote, "It's the same problem across the country. But at least we should show the way for world-class infrastructure."

$15 bn Google AI hub joint venture in Vizag

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

TECHNOLOGY giant Google on Tuesday announced a partnership with Adani Enterprises and Airtel to develop India's largest AI data centre campus and new green energy infrastructure in Visakhapatnam, Andhra Pradesh.

The new hub will bunch AI infrastructure, data centre capacity, new large-scale energy sources, and an expanded fiber-optic network at one place.

The 1-GW hyperscale Google Data Centre is expected to generate approximately ₹10,000 crore in revenue for Andhra Pradesh. Google's investment of about $15 billion (USD) over five years (2026–2030) will create 5,000–6,000 direct jobs and 20,000–30,000 total jobs in the state.

The MoU was signed in the presence of Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, Union IT Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, Andhra Pradesh IT Minister Nara Lokesh, and Google Cloud CEO Thomas Kurian.

Kurian said this is the company's largest investment outside the US.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, in a social media post, said that the multi-faceted investment aligns with the vision to build a Viksit Bharat. "It will be a powerful force in democratizing technology. It will also ensure AI for All, delivering cutting-edge tools to our citizens, boosting our digital economy and securing India's place as a global technology leader!"

Google CEO Sundar Pichai said through this gigawatt-scale initiative, "we will bring our industry-leading technology to enterprises and users in India, accelerating AI innovation and driving growth across the country."

Amid rift buzz, BJP's first list out

Deputy CM Samrat Chaudhary and former Union minister Ram Kripal Yadav get tickets

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AMID speculations that the NDA seat-sharing deal has left him grumpy, Janata Dal (United) chief Nitish Kumar on Tuesday gave away tickets, bypassing the earlier practice of announcing names of candidates at a press conference.

On the same day, BJP, which is now on an equal political pedestal as the JD(U) in terms of seats contested, released the first list of 71 candidates, nine of whom are women.

Springing a surprise, the BJP denied a ticket to Speaker Nand Kishore Yadav, a seven-term legislator, while fielding Deputy Chief Minister Samrat Choudhary in a direct election after over a decade.

Chaudhary has been fielded from Tarapur in Munger while his colleague and deputy Chief Minister Vijay Kumar Sinha will contest from Lakhisarai. Rajiv Kumar Singh of the JD(U) had won the Tarapur seat in the by-election held in 2021. This time, the seat has gone to BJP.

Samrat Chaudhary, a member of the legislative council (MLC), recently hogged the limelight after Jan Suraaj Party (JSP) founder Prashant Kishor accused him of misleading courts about his real age to get reprieve in a murder case.

Nand Kishore Yadav, a veteran MLA from Patna Sahib has been replaced by new candidate, Ratnesh Kushwaha.

Former Union minister Ram Kripal Yadav, who lost to RJD chief Lalu Prasad's eldest daughter Misa Bharti in the 2024 Lok Sabha election from Patliputra, has been fielded from Danapur, the seat currently held by criminal-turned politician Ritlal Yadav.

Sources said the JD(U) boss is peeved over a few seats allotted either to the BJP or the Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas). LJP has got 29 seats, despite not having a single MLA. It appears that Kumar, who is known to dump allies and forge new coalitions at will, was angry that his party was not given the lion's share in the seat deal.

It was not clear at the time of going to press how many JD(U) candidates got tickets during the day. However, prominent among those who did are minister Bijendra Prasad Yadav, state JD(U) chief Umesh Kushwaha (Mahnar) and gangster-turned-politician Anant Kumar Singh.

Dad Lalu proposes, son disposes

RJD president Lalu Prasad Yadav late on Monday night gave away party tickets to 10 candidates at his home, but was stopped when his son and heir apparent Tejashwi Yadav insisted that the ticket distribution should take place only after consultation with alliance partners. The candidates were then asked to return their tickets, though enthusiastic ones like Sunil Singh, who quit JD(U) to join the RJD, went ahead and filed their nomination | P12

ELEPHANT POPULATION DOWN 18%

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

INDIA'S elephant population has plummeted by approximately 18% since the 2017 census, marking the third consecutive decline since 2012. The steepest drops occurred in the Northeast Hills, Brahmaputra floodplains, and Central India, with Karnataka retaining the highest elephant numbers, followed by Assam.

The Wildlife Institute of India (WII), responsible for the census, adopted a new DNA-based mark-recapture technique for the 2021-2025 estimate, rendering direct comparisons with prior counts impossible. Unlike previous methods—direct counts, waterhole surveys, footprint mapping, and thermal imagery—the new approach establishes a fresh baseline for future monitoring.

The latest estimate pegs India's Asian elephant population around 22,446 (range: 18,255–26,645), a loss of over 4,000 elephants since 2017's count of 27,312, which was down 3,000 from 2012. The Western Ghats host the largest population at 11,934 (down from 11,960 in 2017), followed by the Northeast Hills and Brahmaputra floodplains at 6,559 (down from 10,139). The Shivalik Hills report 2,062 elephants (slightly down from 2,085), while Central India and the Eastern Ghats have 1,891, a sharp decline from 3,128.

MB Patil to Shaw: Take up infra work under CSR

Ashoka says in that case, why should businesses pay taxes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A protruding concrete slab and overflowing sewage pose a risk for motorists on the busy Bannerghatta Road in Bengaluru | KEVIN NASHON

BIOCON founder and Executive Chairperson Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw's tweet sharing a Chinese business visitor's remarks slamming the pathetic roads and garbage dumps in the city has created a flutter in government circles.

Industries Minister MB Patil stated that posting about something on which work is ongoing is "not in good taste". He added that the pothole issue is being addressed, and thousands of crores have been allocated. "When the work is going on, tweeting it again is not in good taste," he stressed.

He stated, "Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw needn't panic. Let her take up some work under CSR in her area." He blamed the previous BJP government for the pothole mess. He said hardly 5% of Karnataka residents go to other states for jobs, while people from other states like Gujarat and UP are moving to Bengaluru for jobs in IT, increasing pressure on the city. They buy flats and cars, and settle down here. Still, Karnataka is not shying away from its responsibility, he said.

"Bengaluru has given opportunities, identity, and success to millions - it deserves collective effort, not constant criticism," Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar said on Tuesday, responding to Shaw's repeated criticisms on the state of the city's infrastructure. "Yes, challenges exist, but we are addressing them with focus and urgency. Rs 1,100 crore has been sanctioned for road repairs, over 10,000 potholes identified and over 5,000 already fixed on priority. Major infrastructure works are under way to make Bengaluru more globally competitive."

He pointed out that under the Greater Bengaluru Authority, East Corporation alone will now retain Rs 1,673 crore of its revenues to directly improve infrastructure in 50 wards, directly benefitting the IT corridors. "With major works like the Central Silk Board (CSB)-KR Puram redevelopment, elevated corridors, we are strengthening infrastructure for citizens, employees and companies alike," he said.

Shivakumar said instead of tearing Bengaluru down, let's build it up - together. "The world sees India through Bengaluru, and we owe it to our city to rise united," he said.

Reacting to her post, IT/BT Minister Priyank Kharge said, "I am not sure which part of Bengaluru they have seen. As I have said, the work is in progress. We are growing at a rapid pace, and whatever is necessary for infrastructure improvement, we are doing it."

There was a hue and cry recently after a logistics firm, BlackBuck, said it is moving out of Outer Ring Road because of bad roads, potholes and traffic. Andhra Pradesh Minister Nara Lokesh had extended the invitation to the company to shift base to his state. But Patil had stated that with Bengaluru providing the best ecosystem and talent, no company would move out of the city.

Don't criticise, respond to issues raised: Ashoka

BJP leader R Ashoka on Tuesday said ministers, instead of responding to problems, are targeting those who raised these issues. "When businessmen and the public raise their voice against the poor condition of roads and potholes in the city, instead of responding to them, Congress ministers are attacking them. DCM DK Shivakumar, who is in charge of Bengaluru, has lost the trust of businessmen and people with his irresponsible remark of 'stay here or go away'," he said. Slamming Industries Minister MB Patil for saying businessmen should spend CSR funds to fill potholes, Ashoka said, "If businessmen and industries should fill the potholes themselves, why should they pay taxes? Why should the government exist? Why should ministers exist? Why should the Greater Bengaluru Authority exist?" He said it is natural for businessmen and the public to criticise and that it is the constitutional right of voters. "If Congress leaders do not take the criticism positively and if they continue to speak irresponsibly like this, it is guaranteed that voters of Karnataka will punish the party in the next elections," Ashoka said.

Ramalinga slams idea of privatising BMTC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy condemned former Infosys CFO Mohandas Pai for suggesting the dismantling of Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) and Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya for urging that private transport operators be allowed to run the city's bus services – calling it a "shocking, dangerous and destructive idea."

BMTC serves nearly 48 lakh passengers daily and is the lifeline of the city, Reddy told reporters on Tuesday. Reddy highlighted that along with BMTC, Namma Metro, autos, and private cab aggregators serve Bengaluru's estimated 1.44 crore population, with roughly one-third relying on BMTC buses alone. "Public transport is the hallmark of a welfare state. The government has a crucial responsibility to maintain, strengthen, and expand it," he said.

RIDERSHIP IN CITY AND OTHER CITIES

Corporation	Total Buses	Daily Passenger Trips (in lakhs)
BMTC, Bengaluru	7,067 (Electric buses – 1,799)	48
MTC, Chennai	3,651 (Electric buses – 230)	34
BEST, Mumbai	3,794 (Rented – 2,340; EV– 1,121)	25
DTC, Delhi	3,222 (Electric buses – 2,526)	24
Kolkata	750	6

He criticised them for speaking at a private symposium organised by MoveInSync, a company providing leased buses and transport solutions to private organisations, noting that their comments reflected a capital-centric mindset and disregard for the poor, workers, and middle-class commuters who rely heavily on BMTC services. "Public transport anywhere in the world is not run purely for profit," the minister said.

Reddy cited studies showing that initiatives such as free bus travel for women in Bengaluru and other cities have increased female workforce participation—23% in Bengaluru and 21% in Hubballi-Dharwad—boosting overall state revenue.

Over the past two years, the state government has added 5,800 new buses, recruited 10,000 staff, established new depots, and implemented multiple worker welfare schemes, including accident insurance and cashless medical benefits, he said.

"The all-round development of a city depends on effective public transport," he said. "Buses, metro, auto, taxi, and suburban trains are all essential. Shutting down public transport is shocking, dangerous, and destructive. It should not be 'No More Buses,' but 'More and More Buses," Reddy said.

LANCASTER VARSITY TO OPEN CAMPUS IN CITY NEXT YEAR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE University of Lancaster, London, will open its India campus in the city next year as the University Grants Commission has given its nod.

Higher Education Minister Dr M C Sudhakar disclosed this during the inauguration of a newly constructed building of Nrupatunga University here on Tuesday. Built at a cost of Rs 52 crore, the building was inaugurated by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah.

"We are making attempts to provide quality higher education to students and trying to bring international institutions to Bengaluru. Many students who are unable to spend money on higher studies abroad can access education in international institutions in Bengaluru itself. Already, a Research and Development hub by the Imperial School of London has come up in the city. The University of Liverpool has agreed to start its campus here," Sudhakar said.

Lancaster will open the campus in February 2026 and admissions will begin from August, Students can pursue courses related to computer science, cyber security, business and financial accounting," he said.

"We have introduced the Chevening-Karnataka scholarships. Under this, we encourage five female students to pursue post graduation in universities abroad. Each student will be given Rs 20 lakh from the state government and the remaining by the commonwealth. I want female students from government institutions to apply for this programme," the minister said.

The state government along with the Azim Premji Foundation launched the Deepika Scholarship to provide Rs 30,000 per year to female students who want to pursue a degree or diploma. "There is a similar scholarship programme in other states but those governments have restricted it to 10,000 and 12,000 students. We are offering it to 37,000 students. This scholarship is open to female students who study SSLC and PUC in government schools and colleges."

Global Wales launches £36K fund to boost partnership with Karnataka varsities

Bengaluru: Global Wales has launched a £36,000 innovation fund to support collaboration between Welsh universities and eight partner institutions in Karnataka. Each university in Karnataka will contribute £4,500, taking the total investment to £72,000. The fund will help foster joint research, capacity building, transnational education, and workshop delivery with priority areas such as digital transformation; net zero and green energy; agri-tech and rural economy; creative industries and media; population, health and biotechnology; and materials and manufacturing, including semiconductors. The announcement follows a three-day visit to Wales by a British Council-led delegation of representatives from universities in Karnataka and the vice-chair of the Karnataka State Higher Education Council.

BWSSB joins global water mgmt body

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a significant achievement, the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has become the first Indian water utility to be inducted as member of the Smart Water Networks Forum (SWAN), a globally renowned body dedicated to advancing digital and data-driven water management.

By joining SWAN, BWSSB gains access to cutting-edge global best practices, research collaborations and smart water technologies, reinforcing its commitment to digital transformation under the 'Utility of the Future 2026' vision, said senior BWSSB officials.

Speaking at the event, BWSSB Chairman Dr Ram Prasath Manohar said, "This membership marks a new chapter for Bengaluru's water story. It's not just a recognition of our progress — it's an opportunity to learn, collaborate, and lead India's transition to smarter, more resilient water systems. Under the Brand Bengaluru initiative, our focus is on building global partnerships and adopting world-class service standards," he said.

The announcement was made during IFAT India 2025, where key officials, experts, and stakeholders discussed Bengaluru's roadmap toward integrated water management and digital utility transformation.

With this partnership, BWSSB aims to strengthen collaborations with global utilities, adopt emerging technologies and scale up its vision of making Bengaluru a water-secure city by 2026.

Infra woes hitting MSMEs: FKCCI prez

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

UMA Reddy, the first woman president of the Federation of Karnataka Chambers of Commerce and Industry (FKCCI), flagged Bengaluru's infrastructure woes for stymieing the growth and performance of the city's micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs).

"(The city's) infrastructure must improve to bring efficiency to the logistics of MSMEs. Coupled by potholes and traffic issues, fuel costs run up and are far from negligible. If we are competing with international enterprises from countries like China and Taiwan, efficiency is key," she said.

Addressing the media on Tuesday to highlight FKCCI's vision for 2025-2026, Uma said the key focus for the chamber for the year to come lies in empowering MSMEs. In fact, the medium industries do not need that focus.

"Of India's MSMEs, 97% are small or micro. We have requested the state and central governments to frame separate policies for micro and small enterprises. They should be a separate entity; let them grow," she said.

Reddy's highlighted the importance of women in the entrepreneurial space. "About 15% of entrepreneurs registered to FKCCI are women. There are six women who have been elected to be part of the managing committee. We will include at least six more in the coming year," she said.

An enumerator collects details from a family during the socio-economic survey in Horamavu | KEVIN NASHON

'No Work No Pay' order against 2,300 enumerators

Bengaluru: Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) Chief Commissioner M Maheshwar Rao has issued a 'No Work No Pay' order against 2,300 enumerators for keeping away from the socio-economic survey in the city. Rao said these enumerators did not report for work despite repeated notices and SMSes. Their action amounts to gross misconduct. Hence, the order has been issued disallowing their salaries for the period of unauthorised absence. They should report for work immediately and complete their target, he added. Around 46 lakh houses have to be surveyed in Bengaluru city. Of the 21,000 enumerators, 18,000 are working. Pregnant women, mothers having children below the age of one, and those with serious health problems have been exempted from the survey. ENS

Bengaluru police bust call centre, arrest 16 people

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

SIXTEEN employees, including two women, of a fake BPO firm in HSR Layout have been arrested for defrauding people from the US and Canada. The accused were reportedly putting their victims under digital arrest to extort them. Details of the main accused are not yet known.

On October 7, the HSR Layout police inspector received credible information that a fake BPO company, "Cybits Solutions Pvt Ltd", had hired around 20-25 employees, all through the online process. After three weeks of training, employees were instructed to call customers.

The arrested are, A Francis (29), R Karthik Raju Vadyanam (25), R Sunil (30), A Aravind Anni Poojari (31), L Inder Lalmanee Yadav (31), P Rohan (28), R Rishit Ramesh Saliyan (23), P Guru Prasanna (32), from Maharashtra; F Minot Kankai (32), R Remison Bamon (30), K Phani Leybha Nangzi (27), F Eljiba Mary Marbaning (23), all from Meghalaya; B Rakesh Kumar Singh (29), of Odisha, S Ramakrishna Soni (43), from Madhya Pradesh, P Priyanka Gurung (24), from West Bengal and G Madhev Singh (28), from Gujarat. Of the 16 accused, eight are from Maharashtra, four from Meghalaya and one each from Odisha, Madhya Pradesh, West Bengal, and Gujarat.

"The accused were cheating people through internet calls," said Bengaluru Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh. 41 computers, two attendance registers, four script notebooks, 25 mobile phones and ID cards, one IP device, four routers, and four modems were recovered.

"The accused allegedly contacted US citizens by phone, falsely claiming that they were from US law enforcement. They would intimidate victims, alleging their involvement in drug trafficking or money laundering cases. Under the pretext of "helping" them, they would demand money to "settle" the matter. A suo motu case was registered by the police," he said.

Employees said the company had advertised jobs on online portals. "The company managers had lured job seekers by providing houses to everyone, cabs and food," said an officer.

The defrauded amounts were deposited into the company's wallets or bank accounts.

Bus breaks down on ORR, traffic hit for hours

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A breakdown of a BMTC bus brought Bengaluru's tech corridor, the Outer Ring Road (ORR), to a halt on Tuesday evening, causing massive traffic congestion during peak hours.

According to the Bengaluru Traffic Police (BTP), the traffic jam was triggered by a bus breakdown near the Ecospace Junction towards Marathahalli. At 4:43 pm, BTP posted an advisory on X, alerting commuters that traffic was moving slowly at Kadubeesanahalli, Devarabisanahalli, and Bellandur.

BMTC bus that broke down on ORR | X

Several commuters took to social media to express frustration after being stuck in traffic for hours. "Massive jam on ORR towards Silk Board. All vehicles have been at a standstill for over half an hour. BTP, what's the issue? Every day we face one problem or another during the commute on ORR. Shame on the administration," wrote a user named Ashwatthama.

Another commuter posted, "Just one bus breaks down and the entire ORR comes to a halt — over 5 km of traffic jam! I've been stuck for two hours and haven't even moved a kilometre. If this is all it takes to trigger chaos, what does that say about our infrastructure?"

Prathibha Sastry urged companies along ORR to reconsider the work-from-office mandate. "Please advise companies in ORR to stop forcing employees to work from the office until the roads are ready for this traffic. Stuck at Marathahalli for over an hour. This is exhausting and very, very bad for health," she wrote.

At 8:17 pm, the DCP (Traffic, South) posted on X that the congestion had been cleared: "Traffic chaos on ORR sorted! The traffic police and support team pushed the stuck BMTC bus to ease congestion."

Apart from the bus breakdown, other contributing factors included ongoing white-topping work, mid-week traffic pressure, and the closure of service roads for Metro construction.

Fake tantrik arrested, jewellery worth ₹53 lakh recovered

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

HULIMAVU police recently arrested a fake tantrik, who had allegedly cheated several people of money and gold jewellery after promising to solve their problems by performing some rituals.

The police have recovered 485.4 grams of ornaments worth around Rs 53 lakh from him. Efforts are on to recover the ornaments he had pledged with pawn brokers in Bengaluru and Maharashtra.

The accused Dadapeer, 49, is from Kolar. Dadapeer, who ran a bicycle repair shop, has three wives and 10 children. He also had illicit relationships with several women. Once people fell into his trap, Dadapeer persuaded them that there were hidden treasures in their homes and offered help to retrieve them.

With his arrest, Hulimavau police have solved three cases. Dadapeer has seven more cases against him in various places, including Andhra Pradesh. A senior police officer said Dadapeer targeted people from middle-class families.

He claimed that they faced problems as they were under the influence of evil spirits. He then promised that he would help them get rid of the evil spirits by performing special pujas and rituals. After winning their confidence, he told them that there were hidden treasures in their homes and persuaded them that he would help retrieve them.

While conducting special pujas and rituals, he asked the victims to place their gold ornaments in a box to be buried later to appease the evil spirits. Before burying the box, he told the victims to leave him alone to perform some rituals.

After shifting the valuables from the box to his bag, he called them back and asked them to perform puja to the box, which he exhumed in their presence, daily for 48 days without opening it, the officer said.

The Constitutional Fundamental duty of every Indian is to protect public property and renounce violence

Expelled BJP leader Basanagouda Patil Yatnal took a sharp dig at minister Priyank Kharge on Tuesday for demanding that CM Siddaramaiah ban RSS programmes in public places. He said the Congress government lacks the courage to take action against minorities, while intentionally targeting Sanatan Dharma and the RSS to appease a particular vote bank

TARGET MINISTER

Priyank says he received threats after he sought ban on RSS activities

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IT/BT and RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge said on Tuesday that he received threat calls after he demanded a ban on the RSS activities in government properties.

The minister said he was neither shaken nor surprised and threats and personal jibes would not silence him.

"For the past two days, my phone hasn't stopped ringing. Calls filled with threats, intimidation, and the filthiest abuse directed at me and my family, simply because I dared to question and restrain the RSS activities in government schools, colleges, and public institutions," the minister wrote on social media platform X.

Priyank, son of AICC President Mallikarjun Kharge, has written to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah demanding a ban on the RSS activities on the premises of government institutions. BJP leaders had slammed the minister and claimed that they actively participate in all nation-building activities undertaken by the RSS.

"When the RSS didn't spare Mahatma Gandhi or Babasaheb Ambedkar, why would they spare me? If they think threats and personal jibes will silence me, they are mistaken. This has just begun," Kharge said.

The minister said it is time to build a society founded on the principles of Buddha, Basavanna and Babasaheb, a society rooted in equality, reason, and compassion and "purge this nation of the most dangerous viRuSS."

Responding to a media persons questions on Kharge's getting threat calls, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said he would speak to the minister to get details.

On Monday, the CM had stated that the RSS is using government premises for its activities, and the Tamil Nadu government has already restricted such activities, and officials have been asked to examine the matter.

Salary not paid for months, librarian ends life in Kalaburagi

Also alleges harassment in suicide note

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kalaburagi

IN a tragic incident highlighting administrative failures, a 40-year-old library supervisor in Malakhed village of Sedam taluk in Kalaburgi district died by suicide a she allegedly had not received her salary for three months. Bhagyavathi Vishveshwarayya Agimath was found hanging from a fan inside the library, which is run by the local gram panchayat. She is survived by her husband, daughter and son.

Sources said Bhagyavathi left a suicide note stating that non-payment of salary and harassment by officials led her to take the extreme step. The note explicitly described her plight and the relentless pressure she faced, in a direct indictment of the system.

The incident exposed glaring lapses in the management of public institutions in the region. Local residents said Bhagyavathi had repeatedly approached authorities over her unpaid salaries, but was met with indifference and intimidation. Her suicide note specifically cited that "three months of unpaid wages" and "psychological torment" from officials as reasons for her decision.

Following the tragedy, family members, relatives and community leaders protested outside the library, demanding immediate compensation for the bereaved family and action against those responsible. The protesters accused the administration of apathy and negligence.

The family and protesters said reforms are needed in the administration to prevent such tragedies in future.

BJP SEEKS CBI INVESTIGATION, CALLS INCIDENT GOVT-SPONSORED MURDER

BENGALURU: BJP has demanded that a CBI probe be ordered into the death of a library supervisor in Kalaburgi district on Monday. "It is not a suicide. It is a government-sponsored murder," Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka told reporters here on Tuesday. He said the 40-year-old woman allegedly died by suicide as she did not receive her salary for three months. In a note, she mentioned the reasons for her decision to take the extreme step. Government employees staged a protest seeking justice to the woman as the government attempted to hush up the case, the BJP leader alleged. Stating that the government has become bankrupt, Ashoka said bills of contractors have not been cleared for a long time. Microfinance companies are harassing people, including farmers, who have borrowed money. Over 300 farmers died by suicide due to the delay in granting them compensation for crop loss. The BJP leader accused Chief Minister Siddaramaiah of fixing "targets" for his ministers to raise funds for the Congress to meet its poll expenses in Bihar. The ministers have been told to raise crores of rupees if they want to remain in the cabinet after January, he said. Stating that a "revolution" is on in the Congress, Ashoka said the government will soon collapse. ENS

SC wants votes re-counted, provides relief for Malur MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kolar

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday stayed the disqualification of Malur Assembly segment two-time Congress MLA KY Nanje Gowda, and ordered re-counting of votes, while calling for the report to be submitted in a sealed cover. According to sources, the Supreme Court has stayed his disqualification till the final verdict, and directed the Election Commission of India to conduct re-counting of votes and submit the report in a sealed cover.

Here it may be recalled that Manjunath Gowda, who unsuccessfully contested the 2023 Assembly polls filed a plaint before the Karnataka High Court, seeking re-counting the votes and other reliefs. Accordingly, the HC ordered the re-counting and disqualification of Nanje Gowda as MLA, and also granted four weeks of stay. Following this, Nanje Gowda moved the Supreme Court.

Govt spaces not for political events, says Gundu Rao

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

IN the wake of the directive issued by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah to the Chief Secretary to study Tamil Nadu's policy of banning RSS activities on government premises, Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao has strongly backed the CM's call and said the government should impose an official ban on RSS from holding its activities on government land.

Speaking to the media in Belagavi on Monday, he claimed, "The RSS is a political organisation actively involved in all kinds of political activities for a long time. It may claim to be an apolitical organisation, but the entire nation knows that it is actively involved in forming and removing governments, and formation of the cabinets, etc., for a long time."

He said government officials should not involve with the RSS, as it has been a 100-per cent political organisation. No government space should not be used for political events, he added.

Gundu Rao also defended a letter written by IT/BT and RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge for a ban on RSS activities on government premises.

Referring to the measures taken by the government to bolster state-run medical colleges and hospitals in the state, he said the process of recruiting doctors to the hospitals would be taken up shortly, and facilities would be provided at all the hospitals to extend effective care to the patients.

Higher subsidies, help from Centre needed to grow industries: MB Patil

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A holistic approach is urgently needed to grow industries in backward regions (outside Bengaluru), including higher subsidies and assistance from the central government, said Industries Minister MB Patil here on Tuesday. "We also need to create an enabling environment for industries to grow. It is urgent that we take note of the policies of neighbouring states and take steps accordingly," he added.

Addressing the consultative meeting held with the Karnataka Regional Imbalance Redressal Committee, he said that as per the recommendations of the DM Nanjundappa committee report, Rs 29,422 crore has been given to backward and more backward taluks between 2007 and 2021. High industrialisation is putting pressure on Bengaluru and at the same time, there is a need to divert industries to Kalyana-Karnataka and Kittur Karnataka regions. For that, attractive initiatives are needed, he said.

Now, those setting up businesses in the most backward areas (Zones 1 and Zone 2) get a capital investment subsidy of up to 25% and an additional 5% investment subsidy. "In areas falling under Zone 3, there is complete exemption from land registration fees and a bonus subsidy of 7.5% to 15% to provide employment to local youth. But this is not enough for growing industries," he added.

He recalled that SM Krishna, when he was chief minister, had given a 10-year tax exemption to IT companies. This turned Karnataka into an IT hub. "We need to do something for other industries too," he said. Additionally, the focus should be on skill development, developing human resources and other issues, he added.

The state government is rapidly developing industrial areas in backward districts (Tier-2 cities). "Of the Rs 10.27 lakh crore investment assurance made at the Global Investors Summit held in February this year, 75% is targeted outside Bengaluru. Also, 45% of this investment will be districts of North Karnataka," he said.

FM inaugurates incubation centre at IIT-Dharwad

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH
@ Dharwad

UNION Minister for Finance and Corporate Affairs Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday inaugurated the BioNEST Incubation Centre (BIC) at Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) in Dharwad in association with Research and Technology Incubator (dhaRti).

In an interaction with the IIT students, Sitharaman said the government's focus is on sustainable green models. Several countries are falling back on coal citing higher prices of natural gases. Yet the government is determined to achieve zero emission by 2047, said the FM.

The government is boosting renewable energy enterprises by giving subsidies. Budgetary provision alone is not enough to achieve the goals. For instance, steel and cement sectors need advanced technology to reduce emission and it is costly, the FM said. The FM said green bonds and CSR funds are being mobilized towards this. The FM also said the country is making progress with fintech.

The FM said technology institutes should work with industries and graduates should gain hands-on experience along with academic standards. There is need for change in curricula. Institutes should cater to the needs of students. There are many skill sets, and should students should work on them.

Ministers reiterate high command will decide on any change in CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's dinner meeting with ministers, Industries Minister MB Patil and Labour Minister Santosh Lad on Tuesday said it was a 'routine meeting'.

On the issue of changing the chief minister, they said the high command will decide after sending observers to the state to gather views of party leaders.

Patil said it was just a meal with no agenda. "In BJP, they might convene meetings and mobilise funds. In Congress, the high command sends observers before electing a chief minister. The observers come here, take the opinion of leaders, go back to the high command and convey their message. This has been the practice with our party. BJP should be concerned with their own party. It is their house that is divided. Let them focus on that," he commented.

Lad said that every year, the CM calls a meeting and Monday's gathering was no different. Asked about "November Revolution", Lad said no such discussion occurred. "If they want to discuss it, both the CM and Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar have every right. Whatever the High command decides, it will be final," he added.

Senior Congress leader and Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy told reporters that Congress came to power with a clear majority, and is focused on implementing its five guarantees. On public debates by leaders, including MLAs, on the tenure of the CM and DCM, he said they are unnecessary and harmful to the party. "There is no need for statements in favour or against the CM or DCM. Leaders must exercise restraint and the high command should put brakes on such discussions," he said.

GOVT WORKING TO GET UNESCO TAG FOR LAKKUNDI: HK PATIL

In the last two years, the government has undertaken comprehensive development of Saundatti Yellamma Hill, Anjanadri Hills and the Roerich Estates near Bengaluru

HK Patil, Tourism Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Gadag

TOURISM Minister HK Patil announced in Rajasthan on Tuesday that the Karnataka government is working to get Lakkundi designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, thereby making Karnataka a leading state in heritage tourism.

The Karnataka government has also urged the Union Government to consider Gadag, Hampi, Mysuru and Udupi as post-2025 global destinations under the its national mission to develop 50 globally-competitive tourism destinations.

The minister was speaking at the State Tourism Ministers' Conference on new initiatives in tourism, being held in Udaipur, on October 14 and 15.

Patil said, "In the last two years, the government has undertaken comprehensive development of Saundatti Yellamma Hill, Anjanadri Hills and the Roerich Estates near Bengaluru. The government is working hard to complete these projects within the stipulated time limit."

He explained that a separate coastal tourism policy is also being prepared to centralise and develop the 343-km-long coastline and turn it into a high-end tourism destination.

Gadag district is just a 40-minute drive from Hubballi Airport. Lakkundi, which is 8 km from Gadag, is known as an open-air museum of Chalukyan sculpture. It has 100 intricately carved temples, deep wells, Jain basadis and inscriptions that reflect the brilliance of ancient sculpture.

Trikuteshwara temple, Saraswati temple, Veeranarayana temple, Doddabasappa temple, and also the ancient forts of Dambal, narrate stories of the royal dynasties that enriched Indian sculpture. The minister explained that the late Bharat Ratna Pandit Bhimsen Joshi made a great contribution to national and international recognition of Hindustani classical music and ensured Karnataka's rich musical heritage known across the world.

Karnataka is committed to transforming India into a global tourism destination. The minister explained that Karnataka, in coordination with the Centre and other states, will pour all its energy into making the state a powerhouse of global tourism.

Kids may not be only victims of cough syrups, warn docs

ANUBHAB ROY @Bengaluru

CHILDREN are not the only group to whom these concoctions pose a threat. The red label revealing them to be Schedule H drugs not to be sold without prescriptions, extends its warning to even adults, especially those who have underlying conditions or recovering from surgery.

"Ingredients like dextromethorphan, codeine, or antihistamines may interact with the existing medications, affect the liver and kidney or suppress respiratory and central nervous system," said Dr Khazi Javeed Irfan, Sr Consultant at Sparsh Hospital.

Consultant physician Dr Palleti Siva Karthik Reddy said, "Post-surgical patients are vulnerable as certain ingredients may affect healing, increase bleeding risk." "Even over-the-counter formulations are not safe for these groups," he said.

He said that cough syrups are seen as a quick remedy. "Family advice, prior experiences, and even advertisements reinforce the idea that these syrups are safe, which can delay proper treatment." "It is common for patients to buy syrups without consultation, often relying on prior experience or any advice from family or friends. Many only realise the significance of medical guidance after experiencing complications," says Dr Irfan. "From a cardiology perspective, the warnings [on the bottles] are insufficient in highlighting heart-related risks. Labels rarely mention effects on blood pressure, heart rate, or interactions with cardiac medications," warns Dr Prabhakar Koregol, Sr Interventional Cardiologist at Fortis, Nagarabhavi.

The doctors stress on the need to have awareness campaigns.

Treat OCI cardholders like Indian citizens: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) to amend its notification for the next year onwards to treat OCI cardholders who were born before March 4, 2021 on par with the Indian citizens for the purpose of admission in professional courses against the government seats. A division bench of Justice D K Singh and Justice Venkatesh Naik T passed the order while allowing the two separate petitions filed by Mukul Pravin Khamayacha from Mysuru and Shreyas Chaturvedi Murthy from Bengaluru.

The petitioners are Overseas Citizens of India (OCI). Mukul has studied in Karnataka throughout and completed his Class X examination from Mysuru. Similarly, Shreyas completed Class X in Bengaluru. They have cleared +2 PUC exam from PU Board.

They are aggrieved by the notification issued by the KEA for admission to professional courses in the state for 2025-26. Under Clause 7 of the notification, it is prescribed that no candidate shall be eligible for admission to government seats, unless he is a citizen of India and satisfies any one of the eligibility specified therein. The candidates who have not qualified for the eligibility are not liable for admission to professional courses under government seats. Eligibility for OCI or Person of Indian Origin candidates for government seats shall be as per the government direction.

The counsel for the petitioners contended that the Supreme Court in its judgment dated February 3, 2023 in the case of Anushka Rengunthwar and others has held that OCI cardholders who were born before notification dated March 4, 2021 issued by the central government and who have registered themselves as OCI cardholders, they should be treated as Indian citizens before date of the notification dated March 4, 2021.

Police foil gang rape bid, rescue 2 minor girls in DK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mangaluru

POLICE rescued two minor girls after foiling an alleged gang rape attempt at Niddodi village in Moodbidri taluk in Dakshina Kannada on Monday night.

According to the complainant, two minor girls visited the Bappanadu Temple on October 2. On their way home, they boarded an auto rickshaw driven by Mahesh (30). During the trip, Mahesh exchanged phone numbers with the complainant. He said she could contact him in the future to hire his auto.

Subsequently, Mahesh reportedly told the girl that he was in love with her and expressed his desire to marry her. On October 7, he invited her to his residence, where the complainant, accompanied by her friend, visited his house. Mahesh promised to marry her and forcibly had intimate relations with the complainant.

On October 13, Mahesh once again called the complainant to his residence under the pretext of seeking help with cleaning his house. He picked up the complainant and her friend on his two-wheeler from Kinnigoli. Upon reaching his residence, three other accused, Srikanth (25), who is employed at a milk diary in Kinnigoli, Yagnesh (25), a shop owner, and Dileep (25), a welder, were also present in his residence, despite knowing the complainant as a minor, Mahesh physically assaulted the girl.

Acting on a tip-off, the Moodbidiri Police team led by Inspector Sandesh P G, along with officers Nagraj, Akhil Ahmed, Mohammed Hussain, Mohammed Iqbal, Venkatesh, and Umesh, raided Mahesh's residence, arrested the four accused, and rescued the two minor girls.

Complaint filed at Moodabidiri Police station BNS 2023 under section 64(1), 49): POCSO Act 2012 (under section 6,17,21).

Hubballi-Ankola rail line: WII expresses concerns during assessment

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AS conservationists have objected to the Hubballi-Ankola railway line project, a team of researchers from the Wildlife Institute of India (WII) are now undertaking a study of the project proposal.

The WII team is taking up a two-part study. In a report -- "Assessment of Wildlife Values along the proposed Hubballi-Ankola Railway Alignment in Uttara Kannada, Karnataka", the team stated, "Findings reveal key patterns in biodiversity and seasonal habitat use variation across taxa. The study emphasizes the need for rigorous biodiversity assessments in infrastructure projects to balance conservation and sustainable development."

This 20-year-old proposal was discussed at the first day of the two-day 36th Annual Research Seminar, organised by WII in Dehradun on Tuesday, where the Karnataka forest department is also participating.

In 2022-23, the National Board for Wildlife (NBWF) told the Railways to approach WII for an independent landscape and wildlife study. SWR has kept changing the alignment, and as per the new alignment, the broad-gauge line is proposed along National Highway-63, which is seeing a traffic surge. Earlier, SWR had proposed to acquire 1,000 hectares in the Kali Tiger Reserve, which later reduced to 595 hectares. According to SWR, the total project length is 164 km, of which 34 km stretch between Hubballi and Kalaghatagi has been completed.

The WII team studied forest divisions in Dharwad, Yellapur and Karwar along the proposed railway line from December 2024 to July 2025. Apart from collecting samples, they also used passive acoustic monitoring method for cryptic diversity. "The proposed project will affect 556 hectares of forests, 57 Ha dry deciduous, 89 Ha evergreen, 322 Ha wet deciduous and 88Ha semi-evergreen forest land. The present study has recorded 201 plant species, including 43 Western Ghat endemic species, 29 fish species, 65 herpetofaunal species, 142 bird species and 33 mammal species. The documented species include 12 IUCN Red List species and 35 species listed under Schedule-1 of the Wildlife Protection Act," the report read.

Abhijit Das, Scientist-E, WII and co-author of the study said this is a greenfield railway project and a thorough long-term evaluation is needed as against the earlier short-term studies. "So far we have accounted for 60 unique reptiles and amphibian species, which is 50% of Karnataka's species. A thorough evaluation will be done covering two monsoon seasons and one dry season. The report will be submitted to the MoEFCC and SWR in August 2026," he said. The WII team insisted on a long-term study as the railway line passes through the fragile ecosystem. The line is proposed to pass through the buffer zone of Kali Tiger Reserve and will create a barrier between Bhadra and Kali tiger reserves.

Women must be aware of POSH, POCSO: NCW chairperson

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BANGALORE University Law College, Department of Legal Studies, in collaboration with the National Commission for Women (NCW), organised a workshop on 'Gender Sensitisation and Cyber Awareness' under the initiative, Campus Calling.

"Cybercrime, deepfakes, and photo morphing are among the many emerging crimes leading to harassment against women. Women must be aware of the laws that are formed to protect them and prevent such harassment," NCW Chairperson Vijaya Rahatkar said.

"Cases where woman's photos are morphed using deepfakes and other technology are on the rise. Therefore, every woman must understand laws such as POSH (Prevention of Sexual Harassment) and POCSO (Protection of Children from Sexual Offences). By 2047, Indian women should be living in a society that is empowered, safe, and united," Vijaya said.

Union Minister V Somanna and NCW chief Vijaya K Rahatkar at a workshop on human trafficking in Bengaluru on Tuesday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

Rahatkar emphasised that, along with building a strong youth community, it is equally important to create an empowered and sensitive society. "Colleges and universities are not just educational institutions—they are the centres of nation-building. Today's youth are contributing to the nation's progress with new ideas and innovative thinking. In this context, it is vital to create a safe environment for women in our country," she said.

Prof V Sudesh, Dean, Faculty of Law, said, "Bangalore University has always provided ample representation and opportunities for women, fostering a supportive environment for free and open learning. The Department of Legal Studies will continue its efforts to create legal awareness among women and educate them about their rights."

NCW, RPF JOIN HANDS TO COMBAT HUMAN TRAFFICKING

BENGALURU: A day-long workshop on human trafficking aimed at sensitising and training key stakeholders on prevention, detection and response with a focus on the railways' vital role in curbing the menace, was organised by the National Commission for Women (NCW) and the Railway Protection Force (RPF) here on Tuesday. Addressing the event, NCW Chairperson Vijaya K Rahatkar emphasised that human trafficking must be treated with utmost seriousness. "It is not just a crime but a grave violation of human dignity, freedom, and basic rights," she said. Highlighting that victims, particularly women and children, face sexual abuse, forced labour, child marriage, organ trade and even cyber trafficking, Rahatkar noted that traffickers often target the most vulnerable sections of society. She proposed a four-pillar strategy — Prevention, Protection, Prosecution and Partnership — for tackling trafficking and unveiled a booklet showcasing RPF's initiatives, including Operation Sakhi, which supports women and children passengers. "Such gestures build confidence and a culture of security in public spaces," she added. Union Minister of State for Railways V Somanna said human trafficking, violence against women and violation of children's rights are among the most serious challenges in India. To tackle these, RPF and NCW have launched initiatives like 'Meri Saheli', which actively support women travelling alone or with children. ENS

SC extends stay over ED probe in Tasmac case

State will investigate corruption, who is ED to probe: Kapil Sibal

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday extended its order restraining the Enforcement Directorate (ED) from taking any coercive action, including search, seizure or further investigation against the Tamil Nadu State Marketing Corporation (Tasmac) in the alleged ₹21,000 crore scam till a three-judge bench rules on the review pleas challenging certain provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA).

A bench of Chief Justice of India BR Gavai and Justice K Vinod Chandran observed that it would be bound by the outcome of the review petition filed against the Vijay Madanlal Choudhury judgment and posted the Tasmac matter for further hearing after a ruling in the Madanlal case.

Senior advocates Mukul Rohatgi and Kapil Sibal, appearing for the state government and Tasmac, respectively, questioned ED's action citing Section 66(2) of PMLA which requires the ED to share with the competent authority information received during the course of investigation about the commission of a predicate offence.

Sibal submitted that the state vigilance agency (DVAC) had filed 47 FIRs against liquor outlet operators over allegations of corruption from 2014-21, but ED entered the scene in 2025 and raided the headquarters and took the phones and devices of Tasmac officers. "The state will investigate corruption. Who is ED to investigate corruption," asked Sibal.

The CJI-bench questioned whether the ED's actions would amount to encroaching on the state's investigative powers. "When you find that the state is not investigating, will you take it upon yourself? What happens to Section 66(2)," the CJI bench asked the ED. Additional Solicitor General SV Raju, appearing for the ED, alleged that corruption "is being sought to be concealed behind arguments of federalism".

Sibal also contended that 'corruption' is an offence within the jurisdiction of the state. "Corruption is the predicate offence. It is to be investigated by the state. CBI can investigate with the state's consent. But it is investigating corruption. How can they do that," Sibal asked. "Corruption is by individuals, why raid the corporation," Sibal countered, and pointed out that since the Enforcement Case Information Report copy is not served, they are not aware of the allegations.

ASG Raju pointed out that the 'Vijay Madanlal Choudhary' judgment has held that the ECIR need not be supplied to the accused. Raju also argued that the central agency was not investigating corruption and it was only probing money laundering, but Tasmac was making wild allegations. Accusing Tamil Nadu of trying to protect its officers, Raju said the probe agency has found evidence regarding money laundering. "The DVAC itself has registered the FIR, and hence the existence of predicate offence was undenied," Raju said.

Govt looting temple assets: Chennithala

T'PURAM: Senior Congress leader Ramesh Chennithala has alleged that the Left government in Kerala has been hurting the sentiments of believers for the past 10 years. The government has been trying to loot assets of temples, he claimed. "This is a government of non-believers. They don't value the sentiments of devotees. Five years ago, they tried to destroy the sanctity of Sabarimala, which is the biggest symbol of the state's secularism," he said.

Man gets lifer for raping minor deaf and mute girl

BARGARH: A court in Odisha on Tuesday sentenced a man to life imprisonment on charges of raping an 18-year-old deaf and mute girl in 2022. The court also awarded seven years of rigorous imprisonment on the convict, Tiharu Bhue (58), for house trespass. The sentence will run concurrently with the life term. Bhue was also fined ₹35,000. On July 29, 2022, Bhue reportedly trespassed into the survivor's home in Paikmal and raped her in the absence of her parents.

Google investment: Naidu credits AP's brand restoration

S VISWANATH @ Vijayawada

ANDHRA PRADESH Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu expressed his delight over the establishment of Google's AI data centre in Visakhapatnam, stating that it would drive rapid growth in education, health, agriculture, and other sectors. This development is a breakthrough in promoting Visakhapatnam as a major IT hub.

Upon his return to Andhra Pradesh after attending the Bharat AI Sakthi programme in New Delhi, the Chief Minister received a warm welcome from Ministers, MLAs, and party leaders. They congratulated him on bringing Google to Visakhapatnam, carrying placards that read "Thank You CM Sir - Google comes to AP." Naidu credited Minister Nara Lokesh for playing a key role in getting Google to Visakhapatnam. He urged party leaders to raise awareness among the public about the benefits of the Google AI data centre, which would bring about an AI revolution in the city. Naidu attributed this achievement to the restoration of Andhra Pradesh's brand image over the past 16 months. "The entry of Microsoft to Hyderabad changed the IT scenario of the city in the past, and now the Google AI data centre will bring an AI revolution to Visakhapatnam," he said.

The Google AI data centre would invest Rs 1.33 lakh crore in the port city, creating jobs for 2 lakh youth. This investment is not just a financial boost but a strong foundation for the future of Andhra Pradesh.The project, with an investment of $15 billion over five years, is among Google's largest initiatives in Asia. It will deploy its full AI stack to accelerate AI-driven transformation across India and integrate hyperscale data centre capacity, high-performance AI infrastructure, and an expanded fibre-optic backbone to deliver low-latency services nationwide.

Walkie-talkies may replace mobile phones in Puri temple

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhubaneswar

SERVITORS and security personnel may no longer be allowed to use mobile phones in Shree Jagannath Temple. Instead, walkie-talkies could be provided to those on security duty.

The issue was discussed at the first meeting of the security sub-committee of the temple on Tuesday. Former CAG Girish Murmu heads the panel.

Murmu, along with eight other members, reviewed various security aspects of the shrine including infrastructure, intelligence, crowd management and CCTVs. He said a comprehensive security plan will be prepared for the safety of the 12th century shrine.

Walkie-talkies could be provided to those on security duty at Shree Jagannath Temple in Puri | EXPRESS

Asked, if the Shree Jagannath Temple Act, 1955 needs amendment to include provisions prohibiting people from unauthorised entry into the shrine, carrying mobile phones or flying drones over the shrine, Murmu said there is no need for any amendment and only introduction of a few new rules under the existing act can serve the purpose.

"No one would be allowed to carry mobile phones into the shrine, be it servitors or security personnel or devotees. We are considering introducing a walkie-talkie facility for security personnel deployed inside the shrine," said the ex-CAG.

Despite the shrine being a no-flying zone and recently declared as a 'red zone' by the DGCA, drones have been intercepted flying over the temple. Murmu informed that the security sub-committee will study the measures including an anti-drone mechanism being adopted by other big temples in the country and implement them here. "Beyond this, there is also a need for awareness generation on security threats owing to the flying of drones over the shrine, among people," he said.

The sub-committee, Murmu said, will seek help from the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) for fire, electrical and infrastructure safety. "We have reviewed the infrastructure, equipment and manpower needs of the shrine for a comprehensive security plan and accordingly, measures will be taken," he said.

In September, the Shree Jagannath Temple Administration had formed the sub-committee under the chairmanship of Murmu to evaluate the current security system of the shrine and suggest measures to further strengthen it.

The need for such a committee rose after a series of security breaches including unauthorised entry by devotees during Rath Yatra, devotees carrying mobile phones and spy cameras, and drones being flown over the shrine.

SC may hear TG BC quota SLP tomorrow

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

THE Telangana government on Monday evening filed a Special Leave Petition (SLP) in the Supreme Court challenging the interim orders of the Telangana High Court that stayed GO No. 9, dated September 26, 2025. The GO had raised reservations for BCs in local bodies from 25% to 42%.

On Tuesday, counsels for the state government mentioned the matter before the Supreme Court registry, seeking an early hearing of the SLP, preferably on Thursday or Friday. The registry assured that the matter would be placed before the Chief Justice of India, and with the CJI's approval, the case is likely to be listed for hearing later this week.

The Telangana High Court had on October 9, 2025, granted an interim stay on the GO issued by the BC Welfare department. The order, passed by a bench comprising Chief Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh and Justice GM Mohiuddin, came while hearing a batch of petitions challenging the state's decision to raise the quota.

Following the stay, the local body election process in Telangana came to a halt as the State Election Commission (SEC) was directed to adhere to the 50% ceiling on total reservations, as per Supreme Court precedents. The state's SLP aims to secure relief to proceed with the enhanced quota before the elections.

On Tuesday, TPCC president B Mahesh Kumar Goud met senior advocate Abhishek Manu Singhvi at the Supreme Court premises to discuss the case. The meeting is seen as significant since the Congress intends to implead itself in the SLP filed by its own government.

CARDAMOM IN CUSTODY!

Kerala police stn 'smells good' as spice worth ₹14 lakh invested by thieves seized

ABDUL NAZER MA @ Kochi

IN a bizarre twist to the Rs 81-lakh gunpoint robbery at a steel-trading firm in Kundannoor, the Maradu police station has turned into an unlikely spice godown — packed with 578 kilograms of cardamom. The cardamom-filled sacks, now stacked in a corner of the station, are part of the loot recovered after the accused decided to invest a portion of the stolen money in the prized spice.

According to police sources, one of the accused from Idukki proposed the unusual "investment plan" soon after the heist. "He had links with spice traders and suggested buying cardamom to avoid the risk of storing large sums of cash. Acting on his advice, they purchased cardamom worth around Rs 14 lakh," an officer with Kochi city police said.

After the robbery, the gang fled the scene in cars and motorcycles arranged by their aides. Fearing police surveillance, they abandoned the vehicles in Thrissur and went into hiding. During this period, Joji Jossy (32) of Aluva, the alleged mastermind, along with Jaisal Francis (30), Abin Kuriakose (28) and Lenin Biju (27) — all from Idukki — split the stolen cash among themselves, with a part of it going into the spice deal.

Investigators revealed that Joji and Bushra (47), of Palluruthy, were the key conspirators who learnt of a "money-doubling" transaction involving a large sum at the victim Subin Thomas's steel firm. They allegedly roped in others and planned the armed robbery with the help of a masked gang.

"They assumed the victim would avoid filing a police complaint as the money was linked to an illegal money-doubling scheme. However, the plan collapsed when the victim immediately reported the crime," a police source said.

Kochi City Police Commissioner Putta Vimaladityasaid, "So far, around Rs 45 to 50 lakh has been recovered. The stolen amount was distributed soon after the crime. Further interrogation is expected to reveal more details," he said.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

PEACE OR PAUSE: GAZA DESERVES A FUTURE BUILT ON JUSTICE

THE ceasefire in Gaza, brokered after two years of devastating war, has brought much-needed relief. The release of 20 Israeli and over 2,000 Palestinian detainees, followed by a partial Israeli troop withdrawal, marked a moment of respite. Yet peace built on optics is not justice. The Sharm el-Sheikh summit, convened soon after, formalised Donald Trump's 20-point Gaza plan. Projected as a diplomatic breakthrough and a multilateral stride toward regional stability, it already shows deep cracks under the strain of mistrust and unequal terms.

Trump called it "one of the most significant peace efforts" in Middle East history, flaunting the presence of 20-odd world leaders in the Egyptian city. But the plan's flaws—its vagueness, top-down imposition, and exclusion of Palestinian voices—are glaring. It removes Hamas from political life by decree, ties aid and reconstruction to Israeli security metrics, and hands Gaza's future to an international 'Board of Peace' chaired by Trump himself. There are no timelines for demilitarisation, no assurance of Palestinian sovereignty, and no commitment to end the occupation. For all its lofty rhetoric, this looks less like a peace blueprint and more like a containment strategy.

Trump declared it "a beautiful day" for the region. The reality is far harsher. Gaza's humanitarian collapse cannot be reversed with speeches and aid convoys. Violence has already resurfaced. As even summit leaders admitted, peace cannot be built on concrete alone—it demands political reconciliation and institutional renewal. The agreement's fate will depend not on diplomacy's theatre, but on sustained political will, financial backing, and genuine inclusion of those whose lives lie in the rubble. That means confronting the unresolved fundamentals: borders, refugees, dignity, and the two-state vision.

India, which welcomed the ceasefire, has the chance to move from a cautious observer to a credible actor. With its historic ties to Palestine and growing goodwill with Israel, New Delhi could help shape a just and lasting peace. For now, this ceasefire is a pause, not peace. The world must demand more than managed calm—it must insist on a future that Palestinians, too, help define.

NUAPADA BYPOLL: QUIET SEAT, HIGH-STAKES FIGHT

COME November 11, all eyes will be on the assembly election winding up in Bihar. However, several hundred kilometres away, a quiet and small assembly constituency along Odisha's western corridor—Nuapada—will also have gone to the polls. Although it's a byelection—necessitated by the untimely demise of its MLA and Biju Janata Dal leader Rajendra Dholakia—it will be of significant political interest for various reasons. For the BJP, it presents the first electoral challenge after coming to power in the state last year. For the BJD, it's a matter of prestige as its first electoral test in the opposition. The national party has already gone for the jugular by poaching the sitting legislator's son, Jay Dholakia, last week. This upset the plans of the regional party, which was looking to cash in on the sympathy wave by fielding Jay. It had even planned to field party chief Naveen Patnaik as the star campaigner. However, Chief Minister Mohan Charan Majhi managed to get Dholakia Junior on his side, tilting the scales.

The Congress, too, has a stake in this seemingly triangular contest because the 2.53-lakh-elector assembly segment falls in the home constituency of its state committee chief and former Lok Sabha member, Bhakta Charan Das, who will have a few points to prove.

Nuapada has chosen between Dholakia Senior and the BJP's former state president, Basanta Panda, at the last six elections. This time, Panda's son was in the running for re-nomination despite his loss the last time. However, Jay's induction has changed the equation and made it more unpredictable. To this poll pitch add Ghasiram Majhi, a former Congressman whose stock has grown over the last three elections—so much so that he claimed the second spot in 2024 despite contesting as an independent. Amid all this, the BJP will perhaps go into the election with a sense of trepidation. With murmurs of disquiet surfacing within the party, it will be required to present a cohesive face. For the Majhi government, this bypoll is going to be a huge test of popularity and credibility.

QUICK TAKE

EXPAND POTHOLE PENALTIES

THE Bombay High Court's decision to award compensation for deaths caused by potholes and open manholes is a pathbreaking attempt at fixing accountability. Justices Revati Mohite Dere and Sandesh D Patil set the solatium at ₹6 lakh for the kin of those who died and ₹50,000-2,50,000 for those injured. The bench instructed civic authorities to form committees to address complaints and pay those eligible within two months. Just this monsoon, Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation pledged to spend ₹154 crore on pothole repairs. However, road-building and repair is such a corrupt practice across the country that no work seems adequate. More than 9,000 deaths across India during 2019-23 were attributed to pothole-related accidents. There is an urgent need to expand such penalties to all states.

Nitish Kumar has tried to shift Bihar's political focus from identity affiliations to social deliverance. Good governance needs to take the BIMARU tag off one of India's most backward states

WHY THE ONLY WAY AHEAD IS DEVELOPMENT

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

Senior BJP leader

MANDAR PARDIKAR

THIS November's assembly election will be the first in Bihar after the untimely demise of two Biharis who, in their respective fields, significantly contributed in taking the discourse around viksit or developed Bihar to a different level. One is Sushil Kumar Modi and the other is Shaibal Gupta, founder and member-secretary of the Asian Development Research Institute in Patna. While Gupta was an economist, Modi took the practitioner's track as one of the state's longest serving finance ministers.

The question today is whether Bihar will continue down the development politics path, or go back to identity politics of castes and communities. What Gupta, a visionary scholar, had said about a quarter century ago is worth recalling even today. Venting his agony, he wrote in a monograph: "Let the Bihari sub-nationalism write a new script. It will be mediated with an eye for the national and global markets. This is only possible by forging a new identity in an atmosphere of a resurgent Bihar, wherein we can give befitting reply to all the existing clichés about Bihar's identity, which generally conceptualises corruption and misrule as being synonymous to the state."

Striving for all-encompassing development was the only way to liberate Bihar from corruption and misrule. It followed that Nitish Kumar made good governance a political plank and, over the years, people identified him as 'Sushasan babu'. His approach reflected what a World Bank report titled 'Bihar: Towards a Development Strategy' had advocated. The 2006 report suggested 'strategic efforts' in five areas: improving the state's investment climate; administration and procedural reforms; better design and delivery of core social services; budget management and fiscal reforms; and prioritising law and order.

On almost all the points stressed in the report, Bihar appears to have made a difference. An annual global investors' summit that started in 2023 attracted proposals worth over ₹1.80 lakh crore last year. The state government signed investment commitments with 423 companies during the two-day summit in 2024. It kept up the effort of attracting foreign direct investment by integrating into the Union commerce and industry ministry's Foreign Investment Facilitation Portal, a single-point interface.

Showing a sense of urgency, Bihar also took several initiatives to enhance the ease of doing business. Among the noteworthy ones is the Udyog Samwad portal, which aims to be a one-stop platform for investors to access information on laws, rules, policies, circulars, and notifications affecting their business. Taking a business-like approach, the portal provides online guides to make investors understand the procedures with step-by-step instructions. In addition, the Bihar Single Window Clearance System has smoothened the functioning of all approvals required for doing business in the state.

Then there is the delivery of core social services in particular and social development in general. Today, many Bihar watchers agree that, thanks to the state government's Jeevika rural livelihood programme to empower women self-help groups and the recently-launched Mukhyamantri Mahila Rozgar Yojna, women as voters have tended to go for development rather than caste considerations. In addition, one must note remarkable increases in the budgetary allocations for social sectors—as a share of the state GDP—in the current financial year in comparison to the average allocation by all states last year. While the allocation for education is higher by a sharp 15 percent, those for rural development and health are higher by 5 percent and 6 percent, respectively.

The most noteworthy aspect is a remarkable improvement in the state's law and order situation—in a way, institutionalising the end of 'jungle raj'. Remember the heinous murder of young IIT graduate Satyendra Dubey (2003, Gaya), or of Dalit IAS officer G Krishnaiah (1994, Muzaffarpur), or of Shilpi Jain and Gautam Singh (1999)? They were just a few among many such innocent individuals who perished.

No wonder journalist Arun Sinha, in his book Nitish Kumar and the Rise of Bihar, described Lalu Prasad Yadav's regime as one that "represented a culture of loot and larceny with open patronage to miscreants and roughnecks, whose premier symbols were Sadhu and Subhash (Lalu's brothers-in-law)". Compare this with the fact that the number of murders in Bihar saw a significant dip in 2023, as did cases of kidnapping for ransom and violent attacks by Maoists.

All this presents the case before Bihar's voters that the NDA, guided by Prime Minister Narendra Modi and led in the state by Nitish, is the only way to go. The TINA (there is no alternative) factor is the sharpest arrow in the NDA's quiver. A journalist commented that the political fixed deposit (of goodwill) cultivated by NDA leaders will help them gain interest. It underlines how hope and aspiration have replaced cynicism and frustration. With flyovers and bypasses liberating cities from endless traffic jams, Bihar voters want this infrastructure metamorphosis to continue.

Add to this three important factors that have enhanced the confidence of NDA leaders. Firstly, Rahul Gandhi's attempt to stir the pot by levelling allegations at the Election Commission about its Special Intensive Revision of voter rolls has fallen flat. Secondly, compared to the Mahagathbandhan, the NDA partners have shown maturity and alacrity in finalising their seat sharing fairly smoothly. Thirdly, with the emergence of Asaduddin Owaisi's All India Majlis-e-Ittehadul Muslimeen, which is set to gain from the rift between Muslims originally from Bihar and those from Bangladesh, cracks are seen in the much talked about Muslim-Yadav vote bank.

The message is reflected in a comment by a Delhi-based academic from Bihar: "If Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan and Uttar Pradesh can liberate themselves from the BIMARU tag, why can't Bihar? And for that, we don't want to upset the applecart." The expectation is that this appetite for development would make Bihar's Gen Next want to continue with the status quo.

DRIVING ON THE WRONG FUEL

K N NINAN

Former Professor, ISEC, Bengaluru and Lead Author, GEO-7, UNEP Nairobi

TO hasten India's energy transition and realise the ambitious goal of net zero emissions by 2070, the government of India has directed the use of 20 percent ethanol-blended fuels (E20) in vehicles. This poses a great challenge to ethanol-producing companies, vehicle makers, car owners, and service providers.

India's 2018 biofuel policy had envisaged enhancing the ethanol blending of petrol to 20 percent by 2030, a deadline that was later advanced to 2025. Apart from ensuring energy security and enabling the transit to a low-carbon economy, the E20 rollout is estimated to save $4 billion in fuel imports a year, according to the Niti Aayog.

However, there are various concerns about the decision. The sustainability of the ethanol policy depends on guaranteed, stable prices of ethanol, ready availability of feedstock such as molasses and grains, capacity utilisation (80 percent) of the ethanol industry, and the projected demand. Vehicle buyers consider many parameters in their purchase decision—affordability, ease of driving, vehicle functions, fuel efficiency and maintenance costs among them.

When these concerns were raised, a government press release claimed that over 11 years of ethanol supply, from 2014-15 to 2024-25, the programme saved the country ₹1.4 lakh crore in foreign exchange and 736 lakh metric tonnes in carbon dioxide emissions.

It brushed aside the concerns expressed about lower fuel efficiency and corrosion of rubber and plastic components in vehicle engines using E20. The Niti Aayog report clearly states that the use of E20 will lead to a 6-7 percent drop in fuel efficiency of four-wheelers and 3-4 percent drop for two-wheelers, when compared to vehicles using unblended fuel.

On the other hand, there is a dearth of studies evaluating the social costs and benefits of ethanol production in India. Such an analysis would shed light on the social benefits and costs of ethanol production, including its potential to increase farmers' incomes, employment opportunities, using up surplus grains, reducing greenhouse gases and pollution. The social cost of incentivising the production of water-guzzling crops like paddy and sugarcane in a water-stressed country like India should also be evaluated. Moreover, diverting foodgrains for ethanol production can imperil food security and increase food prices with sharply negative impacts on those already disadvantaged.

At the same time, there are no studies assessing the lifecycle costs of the ethanol policy. India's population is projected to rise to around 1.7 billion by 2050. To meet the food needs of the world's largest population, India needs to step up food production several fold—from 354 million tonnes in 2024-25 to around 480 million tonnes by 2050. The question is whether India will continue to have surplus foodgrains in the future to sustain its ethanol production too.

AP

> The studies guiding India's new ethanol blending policy are flawed. For one, they do not calculate the social costs of higher ethanol production in a fast-growing, water-scarce country. They do not even consider the demand-supply possibilities in the transport sector at depth

Equally importantly, has the government made a robust assessment of the economics and sustainability of ethanol production in the light of emerging transport technologies such as the potential use of hydrogen and other cleaner fuel alternatives such as electric vehicles? If obsolescence is nigh, the infrastructure for ethanol production runs the risk of becoming stranded assets in the not-too-distant future. The disposal of millions of old vehicles rendered redundant to shift to ethanol-blended fuels poses a great environmental challenge, too.

A scenario analysis up to 2050 can not only shed light on the probability of the aspects listed above, but also factor in other possible shocks. For instance, the unexpected disruption in the supply of rare metals by China, which enjoys a global near-monopoly, has jeopardised India's plans to promote electric vehicles. Similarly, wars such as that between Russia and Ukraine have put strains on the global supply of fossil fuels. India's import of cheap oil from Russia has irked the US, which has imposed unprecedented 50 percent tariffs on Indian goods.

There is need for an integrated assessment of demand and supply in the transport sector considering the emerging technologies, energy demand and supply including the development of energy substitutes, economics of alternative energy sources, and consumer preferences.

The terms of reference for the expert committee appointed by Niti Aayog to provide a roadmap for the gradual rollout of ethanol-blended fuels is flawed, since it has not made any social cost-benefit analysis and estimated the lifecycle costs to help in policy decision. It has made a conservative estimate of the demand for ethanol-blended fuels in India, at 1,016 crore litres by 2025, based on a single parameter of growth in vehicle population, ignoring other important variables. There is no sensitivity analysis of the demand and supply estimates to inform us as to what happens if price, demand and supply expectations are not realised.

India can learn from the experience of Brazil, which is a world leader in the use of ethanol-blended fuels. The South American country and the US together account for around 80 percent of ethanol production in the world. Brazil took almost five decades to develop its ethanol sector and, today, around 75 percent of the country's light vehicles use blended fuel. There are many lessons for India from the world's most remarkable success on this front.

'EC SHOULD CLEAR AIR ON NATIONWIDE SIR PROCEDURE'

Another guideline for intensive roll revision needs to be drafted and discussed with stakeholders, says Ashok Lavasa at 27th edition of Delhi Dialogue

PARVEEN NEGI

FORMER Election Commissioner, Ashok Lavasa, IAS (retd.), says the Election Commission of India's Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of the electoral rolls in Bihar was "abrupt, aggressive and ambitious" and "avoidable" at this point in time. Answering a range of questions over the controversy the exercise generated, he says that it is for the Commission to clarify the procedure it will adopt for the nationwide SIR. Excerpts:

Preetha Nair: What is your opinion about Bihar SIR?
I have gone on record to say that this particular exercise was, in my opinion, abrupt, aggressive, and ambitious. And because of all three reasons, I said that it was avoidable at this point in time. And the reason why I said these three things can be understood if you look at three perspectives. What was the purpose of the special intensive revision? What were the principles that were followed, and what was the procedure that was adopted? So, if you look at all three dimensions, then many things become clearer.

The SIR is not a phrase used in the Act or the rules. When you look at the notification of June 24, people started analysing the principles behind this revision, and I think there are two things that created difficulties. In none of the previous revision exercises did the ECI do what they did in this SIR. Then they said that all the voters or electors on the roll as of 2003, in their case, have probative evidence of eligibility. But they also said there is a presumption of citizenship. Whether the ECI has employed this phrase in the revision exercise or even in the enrollment exercise that we are ascertaining and certifying your citizenship, they have never stated this.

Also, the ECI (told the Supreme Court) that if someone is not found in the electoral roll, it does not mean they lose their citizenship. But look at it from this way that if there were at that point in time more than 3.5 crore voters who, according to ECI, had been enrolled after 2003, and ECI is saying that pre-2003 there is a presumption of citizenship, which implies that post-2003, unless we are satisfied with your documents, we do not treat you as a citizen. So, I think this was problematic.

The other thing is that from the beginning, the approach in India has been for the machinery to go to the people and enroll them. The onus has never been on the citizen to apply, saying, please enroll me.

The procedure used for this SIR is different from the previous intensive revision. The order announcing the intensive revision, which also provided the procedure, is unfortunately not available in the public domain. So, nobody can say with certainty that this was a procedure followed in the past and now differs. I think the ECI should have clearly informed the people about any changes in the procedure.

Also, there were reports that the 11 documents are hardly available to people, or only a large percentage of people possess these documents. So, the ECI changed its procedure again. And there were several other procedural issues.

PN: What mechanisms should be in place to ensure fairness and accuracy?. Do you think the modifications of the SIR made the voter list more inclusive and less exclusionary?
The Supreme Court asked the ECI to publish a list of all the 65 lakh voters who were deleted from the draft roll and give the reasons for the deletion. The SIR that ECI treated it as a de novo publication of electoral rules, stating that if we are publishing the rules de novo, we are not obliged to provide reasons for excluding anyone not mentioned. I have the full right to know why my name is being accepted, which is why the Supreme Court stated that you must provide the reasons.

The test, ultimately, is whether these people, whose names have been deleted, will come forward to say that my name should be included again because it has been wrongly deleted. So that is a question which I think all of us, whether you are pro-SIR or against SIR, have to address. If somebody's name has been deleted because it was earlier enrolled, but now he did not submit his form, that person should come forward and say that their name has been deleted.

There are allegations that SIR was brought out under pressure from corridors of power. Did you face any pressure during your tenure?
The way I look at it, it is perfectly understandable for people to say what they want from you. But ultimately, it is for me to decide what I want to do because I am supposed to fulfil a constitutional job. If, let's say, political parties come to you with a demand, and the opposition does the same, it is not pressure. However, if the ruling party comes to you with that demand, it is pressure. So, ultimately, I think it depends a lot on how people understand their role. And for doing the right thing, why should I be under pressure?

Rajesh Kumar Thakur: Does India need an exercise like SIR?
I said that the election commission does have the authority to carry out a revision in the manner that it deems fit. That is what the Act says. And that is why I do not think the court has questioned the Election Commission's authority to carry out an intensive revision.

Can an election commissioner truly function independently, given the structural hierarchy and political pressure?
If there is a fault at all, it lies with the individuals discharging that responsibility. This question has gained currency in the last two years following the Supreme Court judgment, which came because there was a provision in the constitution for making rules that have not yet been made. And the Supreme Court said there will be a selection panel in which the Chief Justice will be there. There will be two others — the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition — until the Parliament makes rules. So, Parliament made rules. I think my view on the matter is that the government lost an opportunity by not broadening the selection process. If the Chief Justice had continued, all these questions would not have arisen. If you broad base the selection process, then it gives more confidence to people.

Santwana Bhattacharya: Was SIR necessary as the Bihar polls are around the corner?
I think the process of reviewing, removing voters, or admitting new voters is available even if you don't conduct SIR. The summary revision, conducted in Bihar, led to the publication of rules in January 2025. According to the Act, in any state where an election is impending, a summary revision must occur. The summary revision was carried out at the end of 2024, and the rule was published in January 2025. Now, during the special intensive revision, if you say that 22 lakh voters have died, does it mean that they have died after January 2025? That data is not available.

That could only mean the earlier exercises were probably not done with proper diligence. And in this case, that is why I am saying that ECI could provide a good justification for employing this process. According to this process, if I give you a form and you don't exist, your form will not come back, and I'll delete your name. Whereas the established procedure is that even when somebody was reported to be dead, ECI would give a notice lest somebody should be giving you false information. If you are recorded as dead, that does not mean that ERO has the authority to delete your name directly unless he has followed the procedure of giving notice that this is the person who is reportedly dead.

SB: In the 2011 Bengal elections, one of the most well-known EC officials, K.J. Rao, had made this statement, which became very controversial at one point, and was discussed and made headlines. He had said that Bengal electoral rolls had to be cleaned out, Bangladeshi entrants had to be cleansed out to ensure Bengal had a free and fair election. So, is it a failing of the EC or a technological situation that we have not been able to evolve a system whereby the deletion of dead voters becomes automatic and manageable?
The point is, what are the reasons for an electoral roll to change? One, clearly, as you said, is death. The legal process involves registering, tracking the registration of deaths and births, and getting a death registered. Is it followed 100 percent? Maybe now, yes. There were times when people would not care to register, or the system was not in place.

But automatically, there was no provision. Even today, there is no provision that, because you register a death, the death registration system will speak to the electoral registration system, and there will be an automatic deletion.

The second is migration. Do we have a system for registering migrants? You don't register it anywhere. So, how would the EC incorporate such a safeguard? And that is why I said that any exercise of purification or updation has to be through a door-to-door survey where a functionary goes.

So, the entire thinking of the ECI has been that exclusion should become difficult. Inclusion should become easy. There are so many people who are migrating from one place to another. There are so many people who are illiterate. How do you protect? How do you give them their voting rights? Make it as easy as possible for them to enrol.

It is the state's function to determine the citizenship of individuals or to prevent people from coming into the country. That is their responsibility. It may be a problem, but why should an organisation that is not equipped to handle this undertake this job? That is the question. By the way, there are countries where the ECI has been given this responsibility.

SB: And we are going into a countrywide SIR. How can it be ensured that this doesn't happen?
The ECI's priority is not to delete voters. Their priority should be to include voters. Then, based on the insights we have from Bihar SIR, can we evolve a more user-friendly procedure? So, I would feel that based on whatever ECI has learned, whatever inputs it has received from people, and whatever the courts direct, they should now draft another guideline for carrying out SIR if it has to be conducted throughout the country. And yes, I don't mind actually if an SIR exercise is conducted. The draft guidelines should be discussed with all stakeholders, as this is what we intend to do.

After all, cleaning up the electoral roll isn't a surprise check, nor is it like some enforcement exercise you suddenly want to do. So, after discussing these guidelines with the stakeholders, you finalise them. I would say that once the guidelines are followed, spend 3-4 months just carrying out a campaign. Tell people that this is the purpose of our exercise. Tell people that this is the purpose of our exercise.

Amit Shah during the 41st Raising Day celebrations of the NSG in Manesar | PTI

Shah: Sixth regional hub of 'Black Cat' commando to be set up in Ayodhya

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Tuesday announced that the government plans to set up sixth regional hub of the 'Black Cat' counter terror commando force NSG in UP's temple town Ayodhya, besides one each in Mumbai, Chennai, Kolkata, Hyderabad and Gandhinagar, as the force has a small unit called 'task force' in Jammu.

The Home Minister was addressing the 41st Raising Day of the National Security Guard at its headquarters in Haryana's Manesar. He added that these NSG hubs in different parts of the country enabled its commandos to reach any emergency immediately and effectively.

In his address, the Home Minister also indicated that the government is working on a plan to bring in major changes in the functioning of the NSG in the coming days. "So far, five hubs of the NSG have been established in Mumbai, Chennai, Kolkata, Hyderabad and Ahmedabad (Gandhinagar). In addition, a new hub is also going to be set up in Ayodhya. Here, the NSG personnel will be deployed and available round the clock," he said.

The government operationalised four regional hubs of the NSG in Mumbai, Chennai, Hyderabad and Kolkata on June 30 and July 1, 2009. The decision to set up these hubs was taken following the 26/11 Mumbai terror attacks of 2008 to reduce the time in mobilising the elite commandos in the event of terror attacks.

During 26/11 Mumbai terror attacks, the NSG commandos were required to be airlifted from Delhi, which caused critical delays. In March 2011, the Centre gave the nod for setting up another NSG regional hub in Gandhinagar. Praising the NSG's efforts in fighting a formidable battle against terrorism for the past four decades, Shah said that it was reassuring for the countrymen that their security and fight against terrorism are in safe hands.

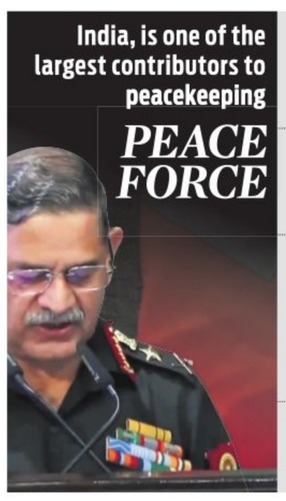
"With the three principles: Sarvatra, Sarvottam, Suraksha, and by making Samarpan, Saahas and Rashtrabhakti, its hallmarks, the NSG has fought a formidable battles in this country for four decades," he said.

India for tech-driven, leaner UN peacekeeping

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

GENERAL Upendra Dwivedi, Chief of Army Staff, said on Tuesday that under the financial constraints, the United Nation (UN) Peacekeeping missions have to be planned at smaller scales and will have to move towards preventive diplomacy. "Reduced funding for UN missions will be a reality and thus missions have to be planned with lesser boots on ground and more reliance on tech.

Thus, militaries can help in negotiations, because of the reduced presence of manpower UN moving towards preventive diplomacy and sustainable peace building and not just armed presence," General Dwivedi said.



India, is one of the largest contributors to peacekeeping
PEACE FORCE
5,211 Indian Peacekeepers are deployed in 09 out of 11 ongoing missions
India's participation in the UN began with operation in Korea in the 1953
India has participated across 51 missions out of the total 71 peacekeeping missions of the UN
300,000 men and women have been sent till date by India
181 INDIAN PEACEKEEPERS HAVE MADE THE ULTIMATE SACRIFICE

"With reduced numbers on ground, we could also visualise UN Peacekeeping moving more towards preventive diplomacy and sustainable peace building, not just armed presence. That is where militaries can contribute in negotiations," the Army Chief added.

He was addressing the gathering at United Nations Troop Contributing Countries (UNTCC) Chiefs' Conclave being held here from October 14 to 16 at Delhi. The Conclave is being attended by leadership of 32 troop-contributing nations who together provide nearly two-thirds of all peacekeepers deployed worldwide.

Chief described that Peacekeeping represents the most visible manifestation of the UN Charter's call to maintain international peace and security.

But, there has been an overall decline in personnel manning the UN Missions across the globe. According to the data released by the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) in May this year, deployments to peace operations have dropped by over 40 per cent in the last decade - from 1,61,509 personnel in 2015 to just 94,451 in 2024.

Leh DM to SC: Wangchuk engaged in activities prejudicial to na'tl security

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Leh District Magistrate on Tuesday filed an affidavit in the Supreme Court charging the popular climate activist, Sonam Wangchuk, with indulging in activities prejudicial to the national security, and defended his detention under the National Security Act (NSA).

The Leh DM said, "The detention order has been forwarded to the Advisory Board as required by the Union Territory of Ladakh within the period prescribed under the provision," the DM said. It also clarified that his wife was immediately informed about the arrest by Leh police, and about his transfer to Jodhpur also.

Wangchuk was accused of allegedly inciting a violent protest in Ladakh. The affidavit clarified that the climate activist has not made any representation as required under the National Security Act, 1980. "Under the scheme of the Act, only the detenue can make a representation. However, since a copy of the letter addressed by the petitioner to the President of India is marked to the Union Territory of Ladakh, the said letter is also placed before the Advisory Board," clarified the affidavit.

Meanwhile, Wangchuk's wife Gitanjali Angmo, who has filed an habeus corpus petition in the Supreme Court challenging his detention, on Tuesday also affidavit in the top court and said that she has been put under surveillance.

SC allows UPSC answer key petitions

The Supreme Court on Tuesday allowed a bunch of petitions challenging the UPSC commission's "opaque" policy on releasing Civil Services Preliminary Examination answer keys, following its recent affidavit agreeing to publish provisional keys immediately after the prelims. Aspirants and legal experts called the verdict as a "victory for transparency", though the deferral to High Courts leave questions on immediate relief for over 10L candidates from the 2024 and 2025 prelims.

Capt Sabharwal's father seeks direction for inquiry panel

S LALITHA @ New Delhi

PUSHKARAJ Sabharwal, father of the late Captain Sumeet Sabharwal who served as the Pilot-in-Command of the Air India flight which crashed at Ahmedabad, and the Federation of Indian Pilots (FIP) have moved the Supreme Court seeking direction for the constitution of a judicially monitored probe into the accident.

A writ petition running into 267 pages was filed on October 10 in the top court against the Union of India, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), and the Director General of the Aircraft Accident Investigation Bureau (AAIB). The court will hear the petition after Diwali.

Eighty-eight-year-old Sabharwal, a resident of Mumbai, is the first petitioner while the FIP is the second petitioner. They have requested that the committee be headed by a retired SC court judge with independent experts from the aviation industry.

The Boeing 787-8 crash on June 12 resulted in the death of 260 people. The preliminary report released on July 12 by the Aircraft Accidents Investigation Board (AAIB), came in for massive criticism from pilot bodies and the families of the victims as it held ₹human error' on the part of the cockpit crew responsible for the mishap.

The petitioners submitted that the AAIB report was "profoundly flawed." The investigation team had predominantly focused on the deceased pilots, who are no longer able to defend themselves, while failing to examine more plausible technical and procedural causes of the crash, they said.

GRUESOME

An Uttar Pradesh woman was arrested on Tuesday for allegedly killing her newborn daughter. The matter come to light when the accused tried to dump the body in a canal here, police officials said.

Of 71 candidates, 50% hail from Dalit, OBC, EBC & other socially deprived sections ● Cong says no confusion over Tejashwi as CM face

Deft caste engineering in BJP list

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN a state where caste calculus defines electoral outcomes, the BJP's first list of 71 candidates for the Bihar assembly elections is a textbook exercise in political social engineering.

Released amid intense jockeying over seat shares within the NDA, the list reflects a sharpened strategy to retain core voters, recapture lost ground, and counter emerging threats while sparing no effort not to alienate the traditional upper-caste supporters.

The party's approach is notably caste-calibrated. Of the 71 candidates, a significant portion, around 50%, hail from Dalit, OBC, EBC, and other socially deprived backgrounds. The inclusion of 9 women candidates, spanning multiple caste groups, reinforces the BJP's messaging around inclusive representation — a counter to the opposition's social justice plank.

Yet, conspicuous by absence is any Muslim representation, which is widely seen as the BJP's continued reliance on Hindu consolidation in a state where Muslim voters are a decisive force in nearly 50 seats.

The list repeats sitting MLAs and top leaders, including the two current Deputy Chief Ministers Samrat Chaudhary (fielded from Tarapur) and Vijay Kumar Sinha, along with former deputies Renu Devi and Tarkeshwar Prasad. However, it also drops senior stalwarts like Nand Kishor Yadav and Amrendra Pratap Singh, signaling a generational shift and caste recalibration.

A surprise re-entry is Ram Kripal Yadav, a prominent OBC face and former Union Minister, now fielded from Danapur — an RJD stronghold dominated by Yadav voters. His selection appears aimed at eroding RJD's OBC base, particularly after his defeats in Patliputra to Misa Bharti.

The BJP is attempting to dent VIP leader Mukesh Sahni's influence over the Nishad community by fielding Rama Nishad, wife of former MP Ajay Nishad, who recently returned to the party fold after a ticket denial. New faces, too, reflect social and political rebalancing. The inclusion of former JD(U) MP Sunil Kumar Pintu, ex-bureaucrat Sujit Kumar Singh, and turncoat Congress MLA Siddharth Saurav demonstrates BJP's willingness to absorb defectors with local clout and caste relevance.

Modi to address over 10 Bihar rallies as NDA gears up for triangular contest

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

WITH the Bihar Assembly elections poised to turn into a triangular battle, owing to the entry of Prashant Kishor's newly launched Jan Suraaj Party, the ruling National Democratic Alliance (NDA) is ramping up its campaign plans.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi is expected to address more than 10 public rallies during the first two phases of polling, scheduled for November 6 and November 11, covering a total of 122 assembly constituencies, sources said. Sources said that the PM Modi's rallies will target areas where the NDA's influence is relatively weak but where the Prime Minister maintains a strong personal following. Each of Modi's rallies is expected to cover 15 to 20 assembly segments and will be supported by live telecasts in remote regions.

"We think the PM will effectively address almost all key segments through these mega rallies. The final number is yet to be confirmed, but he is expected to address more than 10 rallies between the two phases," a senior BJP leader said.

The NDA's campaign will also see a strong push from other top leaders.

Bihar CM Nitish Kumar is expected to hold between 30 and 35 rallies, each covering 5 to 7 constituencies. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, who holds significant sway among Rajput and upper-caste voters in the state, is likely to address over 25 rallies. Home Minister Amit Shah, widely regarded as the BJP's chief electoral strategist, will address at least 25 rallies. BJP national president JP Nadda, known for his long-standing involvement in Bihar politics, is slated to hold 20 to 25 solo rallies, apart from shared platforms with other leaders.

In the 2020 Bihar elections, Modi had addressed 12 rallies across districts including Patna, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, and East Champaran. This time, the number may rise, and roadshows in key cities are also under consideration. Modi will launch the NDA's poll drive on Wednesday by virtually addressing BJP booth-level workers under the party's Mera Booth, Sabse Majboot initiative.

Singer Maithili Thakur to be Alinagar's BJP nominee

Folk singer Maithili Thakur made her political debut on Tuesday and joined the BJP ahead of the forthcoming Bihar assembly elections. He took membership of BJP in the presence of many senior leaders, including state president Dilip Jaiswal. "I will do whatever instructions are given to me. Contesting elections is not my goal. I will abide by the order given to me by the party leadership," she said, after taking membership of the saffron party in Patna. She said, "I have seen the developments brought about by NDA in the state." Thakur has been tipped off to be fielded from the Alinagar seat in the Darbhanga district. The seat is currently held by BJP MLA Mishri Lal Yadav, who was acquitted by the Patna High Court in a criminal case recently.

EC cracks whip on uncertified political ads ahead of polls

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

WITH the Bihar Assembly elections and by-elections in eight constituencies across seven States and Union Territories on the cards, the Election Commission of India (ECI) has tightened oversight on political advertising, especially on electronic and social media.

The ECI on Tuesday directed all political parties and candidates to seek pre-certification from the Media Certification and Monitoring Committees (MCMCs) before publishing any political advertisements across electronic platforms, including social media. Bihar will vote in two phases on November 6 and 11, with counting set for November 14. The bye-elections in six states and Jammu & Kashmir will also be held on November 11, with results announced alongside Bihar's.

An ECI missive said that the MCMCs have been set up at both state and district levels to monitor compliance. "No political advertisement can be aired on TV, radio, or social media without prior MCMC approval," the Commission stated. These committees will also track paid news and initiate action where needed.

Acknowledging the growing impact of digital platforms, the ECI has made it mandatory for candidates to declare their official social media accounts when filing nominations and the parties must submit a detailed account of social media campaign expenditurewithin 75 days of the election's conclusion.

Lalu allocates RJD tickets, stops after Tejashwi steps in

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AN unusual scene unfolded in the Rashtriya Janata Dal on Monday evening when Tejashwi Prasad Yadav withdrew party symbols that had been handed out to candidates by his father and party supremo Lalu Prasad, triggering confusion.

The episode comes just as election talks within the INDIA bloc hit a rough patch, with the Congress instructing its Bihar leaders to prepare a list of candidates for all 243 assembly seats. Photos of at least 10 leaders walking out of Rabri Devi's official residence with RJD symbols went viral on social media. Lalu and Rabri had returned from Delhi after a court appearance when aspirants, reportedly called by the party, entered the residence and came out holding tickets.

However, Tejashwi rolled back the move after returning to Patna later that night. He called the candidates back past midnight and took away the symbols, citing "technical issues".They included Sunil Singh from Parbatta, who quit JD(U) last week, Narendra Kumar Singh alias Bogo, a former JD(U) MLA from Matihani, and sitting RJD MLAs Bhai Virendra, Chandrashekhar Yadav of Madhepura, and Israil Mansuri of Kanti.

According to party insiders, Tejashwi told his father that public circulation of symbol photos and videos could anger alliance partners. "What is happening in RJD ahead of elections? The way MLAs were asked to return party symbols has sent the wrong message and created a wrong impression about the party," an RJD MLA said.

Cong looking for 60-plus seats, deadlock over 3: Tariq

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

WITH barely 48 hours remaining for the first phase of nominations in the Bihar Assembly elections, Congress on Tuesday said that the Mahagathbandhan (Grand Alliance) may finalise the seat-sharing formula on Wednesday, and it will make a formal announcement soon.

Speaking to this newspaper, Congress leader and Lok Sabha MP from Bihar's Katihar, Tariq Anwar, said that the main allies, Congress and Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD), will conclude the talks on Wednesday and announce the seat-sharing formula. The party is eyeing contesting 60-plus seats, he said, asserting that the party wants a respectable tally that will boost its chances of electoral success. "Rahul Gandhi will hold a meeting with the state leaders and others in the evening, and a decision will be taken," he said.

The leader also dismissed reports of Congress' unwillingness to announce Tejashwi Yadav as the Chief Minister face of the alliance. "Tejashwi is the opposition leader, and he's leading the alliance. Hence there is no confusion. The Congress did not make a formal announcement because the party announces the CM candidate only after the election.

However, there is no confusion about Tejashwi because RJD is contesting in more seats," said Anwar.

The bone of contention between the two allies was three to four seats, added the leader.

The seats in question are Kahalgaon, Narkatiyaganj, Bachhwara and Vasaliganj, said Anwar. "There was some strain between the parties over these seats, which the Congress considers as our stronghold. Talks are still going on, and I am optimistic that the stalemate will be over by tomorrow," he said. Congress candidate Vinay Varma had fought from Narkatiaganj in the 2020 election.

Anwar also dismissed reports of uneasiness between the two parties. Though RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav held a crucial meeting with senior Congress leaders, including general secretary K C Venugopal, the meeting did not yield any result. While Yadav left Delhi without meeting senior leader Rahul Gandhi, Anwar said, "Tejashwi met state and central leadership. The leaders explained our position, and after the meetings, the situation has further improved."

Another friction point is the Mukesh Sahni-led Vikassheel Insaan Party (VIP), which is currently negotiating with the alliance for 30 seats. "Talks with the VIP are on, but it is difficult to meet their demand. He wants the announcement of the deputy CM, which the Congress is not willing to do. This was not our tradition before the election," he added.

The meeting of the Central Election Committee (CEC), which was held late evening on Tuesday, discussed the candidates, alliance strategies and manifesto, he said.

Praise for DGP sparks buzz in Jaipur corridors

Union Home Minister Amit Shah was the centre of discussion in Jaipur. More than his visit, what caught people's attention was his unexpected praise for Rajasthan DGP Rajiv Sharma. Shah said that the top cop played a key role in drafting the country's new criminal laws - BNS, BNSS, and BSA. That one line from Shah has set off murmurs in political circles: was it a compliment, a message, or both? By publicly backing the DGP, the home minister seemed to signal smooth ties with the state's police setup.

BJP struggles to pick a candidate for bypoll

Anta Assembly bypoll has once again shown that while the BJP may hide its secrets nationally, Rajasthan refuses to play along. While Congress candidate Pramod Bhaya and independent Naresh Meena have filed their nominations, the BJP is yet to even name its candidate! What makes Anta special is its royal connection - it falls under the Lok Sabha constituency of Dushyant Singh, son of former CM Vasundhara Raje. Insiders say that despite several rounds of talks, the party and the Raje camp can't agree on a name. Every possible truce to seal the deal seems to have fallen apart.

Diya Kumari stands out in Udaipur conference

Udaipur turned into a royal runway on Tuesday as tourism ministers from across India gathered for a high-profile conference. While Union Tourism Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat spoke about the national policy, It was Dy CM Diya Kumari who grabbed the buzz as Jaipur's ex-royal family member tried to blend grace with governance. The two-day meet is an effort to advance PM Modi's vision of "One State: One Global Destination" - a call to develop at least one globally benchmarked tourist destination in every State and UT. This conference will further discuss ways to boost India's tourism and global branding.

20 killed as bus catches fire in Raj, many critical

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

TWENTY people were killed, while several others suffered burn injuries, when a bus en route to Jodhpur from Jaisalmer suddenly caught fire on Tuesday, officials said.

Many of the injured, including women and children, are reported to be in critical condition, they added. According to the officials, the bus had left from Jaisalmer as per its daily schedule and had reached near the War Museum, around 20 kilometers from the desert city when flames erupted from its rear section. While 19 passengers died in Jaisalmr, one of the critically injured succumbed to his injuries on his way to Jodhpur.

The exact cause of the fire is yet to be ascertained, though a short circuit inside the vehicle is suspected. Administrative officers along with a technical team have begun a detailed investigation.

Since the incident occurred close to an Army area, Army personnel were among the first to reach the spot and began rescue operations. The injured were initially provided first aid at the Army hospital and later shifted to Jaisalmer.

Municipal Council Assistant Fire Officer Krishnapal Singh Rathore said the bus was completely engulfed in flames when the fire brigade arrived. "The team managed to douse the fire, but initially it was feared that several passengers have been burned alive," he said.

Top Maoist leader carrying bounty of ₹10 cr surrenders with 60 cadres

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MALLOJULA Venugopal Rao, alias Sonu — a politburo member of the Communist Party of India (Maoist) and one of the most prominent Naxalite leaders — laid down arms late Monday night, taking with him 60 other cadres, marking a significant setback for the party.

Venugopal alias Bhupathi alias Sonu, along with the cadres, including a member of the central committee and ten members of a divisional committee, surrendered before the police in Maharashtra's Gadchiroli district, sources said.

Sonu was considered one of the most influential strategists in the Maoist organisation and had long supervised platoon operations along the Maharashtra-Chhattisgarh border, according to sources. He had a total bounty of ₹10 crore on his head from various states.

Bhupathi alias Sonu was not only the ideological head of the party but also its communication specialist and the thread that connected it to the world outside the forests of Chhattisgarh

"Sonu used to have ties with the outside world. He used to be the connect with Maoist sympathisers and frontal organisations. With his exit, it is clear that the Maoist party has suffered a setback," an intelligence official said.

According to officials, Sonu had expressed his willingness to surrender earlier this year. The growing differences between Sonu and the top Naxal leadership in recent months led to internal conflict in the party, which is believed to have been a catalyst for his exit.

Sonu claimed that the armed struggle failed and appealed for a shift towards peace and dialogue, citing diminishing public support and the loss of hundreds of cadres. Many cadre supported his view and agreed with his decision. However, his stand met with resistance from other senior cadres who decided to continue the fight under another leader. In recent months, Gadchiroli district has witnessed a steady stream of Naxalites surrendering before the police. Earlier this year, Bhupathi's wife Tarakka also surrendered.

Maoists strangle BJP worker to death in Chhattisgarh district

The CPI (Maoists) once again unleashed violence by setting ablaze another mobile tower in Bahda village under the Chotanagara area late at night on Monday, creating panic among locals. Earlier on Saturday, the Maoists had torched a mobile tower in Kolbonga village under the Jaraikela police station area. These attacks coincide with the Maoists' 'Resistance Week', being observed by them in five states.

Rejuvenation of cities top priority, says Yogi

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CHIEF Minister Yogi Adityanath announced plans on Tuesday for a comprehensive Urban Redevelopment Policy aimed at the holistic rejuvenation of cities across Uttar Pradesh. Speaking at a Housing Department meeting, Yogi said that the cities were not merely clusters of buildings but vibrant social structures while stressing the need for a policy that integrates modernity, tradition, and humanity.

The new policy aims at focusing on transforming old, dilapidated, and unused areas with modern urban infrastructure, ample public amenities, and environmental balance.

He highlighted that the approach must ensure cities were worth living in, safe, clean, and well-planned, while prioritising public interest so that no property or livelihood was adversely affected. He directed the urban development department authorities that the policy should give priority to land reorganisation, promotion of private investment, a transparent rehabilitation system, and safeguarding the livelihoods of affected families.

"In every project, the principle of 'public interest first' should guide actions, ensuring that no one's property or livelihood is adversely affected. A fair and humane approach should be adopted while implementing," the CM said.

He added that the new policy should give priority to a state-level redevelopment authority, a single-window approval system for projects, and the PPP model.

FUND HOUSES SUSPEND FRESH INVESTMENTS IN SILVER ETFs

Suspension of these funds is for new additions meant to ensure fair treatment of investors

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

WITH the Tata AMC suspending/freezing fresh investments in exchange traded silver f unds on Tuesday, the number of fund houses taking such protective/corrective action has reached five.

Why fund houses doing so

The simple and quick answer is the acute shortage of the white metal, which has led to prices soaring and the resultant rising premium that has climbed around 12% over the physical metal. Apart from Tata MF, other fund houses that have temporarily suspended new investments into their silver ETF fund-of-funds are Axis Mutual Fund, Kotak AMC, UTI AMC, and SBI Mutual Fund.

As per Axis MF, total silver ETF holdings in the country is roughly 1.13 billion ounce, which is worth over $40 billion by mid-2025. In a statement earlier in the day, Tata MF said it is temporarily suspending purchases, switch-ins, fresh SIPs, and fresh systematic transfer Plans or STPs into the scheme in the Tata Silver ETF fund-of-fund, effective October 14.

"Supply constraints in physical silver are causing a surge in silver ETF prices as ETFs are backed by physical precious metal - silver ETFs are trading at a premium to their respective NAVs. Till this supply uncertainty reduces we have decided to temporarily suspend all fresh and additional lumpsum investments, switch-ins, and fresh SIP transactions in Tata silver ETF fund of funds," Tata AMC said.

Does one need to worry?

Those who have already an investor need not worry about the safety of her investment. The suspension is for new additions and is meant to ensure fair treatment of investors and maintain scheme integrity. The measure is just to temporarily halt new inflows until the demand-supply scenario stabilises. Fund houses are also allowing request for withdrawals to certain times. For instance, Tata MF said it will entertain requests received till 3 pm on October 13, and will process as usual and that existing SIPs and STPs will continue also unaffected and so do redemptions, switch-outs, and SWPs remain open.

The suspension will take effect on October 14, and applies to lumpsum purchases, switch-ins, and new registrations of systematic investment plans (SIPs) and systematic transfer plans (STPs) into the scheme.

While international prices have shot up close to 62% so far this year, crossing the psychologically sensitive $50 per ounce (28.35 grams) mark for the first time, the domestic prices are up over 80% so far this year at over ₹1.81 lakh a kg.

By pausing fresh inflows, fund houses aim to protect investors from overpaying during this period of inflated silver prices. For existing investors; SIPs, STPs, and holdings continue to function normally. They can also redeem, switch out, or withdraw via systematic withdrawal plans (SWPs) as per scheme rules. But new investors can't start fresh lumpsum investments or switch-ins until the suspensions are lifted.

Why silver shortage?

The simple answer why there is shortage is that their demand far outweighs supply, which has been muted so far this year due to lower incremental mining. And, the industry does not see mining normalising before the middle of 2026.

Why excess demand?

The reason behind this is increased industrial demand from sectors such as solar, electric vehicles, and electronics; Axis Mutual Fund said in a note over the weekend.

Gold prices rise to new high on China-US trade war, local demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

WITH gold price breaking new records almost every day—the metal has set more than 30 records this year so far—and is nearing the $4,200 mark ($4,147.57/oz around noon IST) for an ounce or for 28.35 grams on Tuesday.

Gold held by our households are worth close to 89% of the national GDP or over $3.8 trillion, according to a recent note by Morgan Stanley when the metal was trading a little over $4,000 and ounce. The yellow metal has gained more than 62% so far this year and 27% last year and 24% in the year before that.

The yellow metal's phenomenal appreciation, driven currently by latest trade tension between the US and China, continuing demand for the central banks.

The Reserve Bank holds as much as 13.6% (over 890 tonne) of its close to $700 billion of forex reserves in gold today, having bought close to 57.5 tonne in 2024, which was the second-highest annual purchase in seven years, but has moderated to just 3.8 tonne so far this year.

Gold ETFs recorded $902 million in net inflows in Sept 2025, up 285% from Aug

Many countries are diversifying their reserves away from dollar, taking official gold buying to multi-decade highs

Other reasons are rising demand for non-physical gold by way of bonds, exchange traded funds, and the never-ending lust of woman to get adorned themselves with gold. Also, driving the demand and prices is the fact that many countries are diversifying their reserves away from the US dollar, taking official gold buying to multi-decade highs.

Data from the World Gold Council (WGC) shows that Indian gold ETFs recorded $902 million in net inflows in September 2025, up 285% from August, making the country the fourth-largest contributor globally after the US, England, and Switzerland. Similarly, data from the Association of Mutual Funds (Amfi) indicates that gold ETF inflows has jumped to ₹8,363 crore in September, compared to Rs 2,190 crore in August -- a spike of 282%, taking the total assets under management for gold ETFs to over ₹90,000 crore.

Global oil supply set for significant growth over next two years, says IEA

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE world's oil supply is on track for substantial growth over the next two years, with an increase of 3 million barrels per day (mb/d) expected in 2025 and a 2.4 mb/d in 2026, as per a report from the International Energy Agency (IEA).

The monthly Oil Marketing Reports by IEA, also highlights that the bulk of this future growth will come from producers outside the OPEC+ alliance. The United States, Brazil, Canada, Guyana, and Argentina are expected to contribute a combined 1.6 mb/d (million barrel per day) of additional supply in 2025, followed by a further 1.2 mb/d in 2026.

The Paris-based agency notes OPEC+ is poised to contribute significantly to the global increase, with the group projected to add 1.4 mb/d this year and 1.2 mb/d next year, as member countries gradually unwind previous production cuts. In September 2025, global oil supply rose by a remarkable 5.6 mb/d compared to the same month a year earlier. OPEC+ accounted for 3.1 mb/d of this increase, driven by the unwinding of 2 mb/d in production cuts by the core Group of Eight, as well as strong output gains from Libya, Venezuela, and Nigeria.

Based on the latest agreement among member nations, OPEC+ is expected to boost production by an average of 1.4 mb/d in 2025 and 1.2 mb/d in 2026. Meanwhile, non-OPEC+ producers are on track to add 1.6 mb/d and 1.2 mb/d, respectively, over the same period—led by robust production growth in the US, Brazil, Canada, Guyana, and Argentina.

However, the IEA also warns of risks to global supply stemming from geopolitical tensions. Sanctions on Russia and Iran, along with persistent attacks on Russian energy infrastructure, have disrupted supply chains. Russian crude processing has reportedly fallen by an estimated 500,000 barrels per day (kb/d), resulting in domestic fuel shortages and reduced exports. The decline in Russian middle distillate exports has had global repercussions, with regular buyers scrambling to find alternative sources.

Growth will come from non-OPEC+ producers

Monthly Oil Marketing Reports by IEA, highlights that the bulk of this future growth will come from producers outside OPEC+ alliance. The US, Brazil, Canada, Guyana, and Argentina are expected to contribute a combined 1.6 mb/d (mn barrel per day) of additional supply in 2025, followed by a further 1.2 mb/d in 2026

TASE Global to generate $30 mn from expansion

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

SANKARARAMAN Vaidyanathan, chairman of Chennai-based aerospace engineering company Trusted Aerospace Engineering (TASE Global), said the expansion of its plant in Sriperumbudur in Kancheepuram district would help it to generate additional $30 million in the next two years.

The opening of the expanded manufacturing facility will be in November, he said. Vaidyanathan said in an event organised by the company to announce acquisition of US-based Joined Alloys, a firm specialising in aerospace manufacturing, special processes & specialised sheet metal fabrication and product development based out of Phoenix, Arizona for ₹106 crore. It has invested ₹150 crore capital expenditure for the expansion of brown field in Sriperumbudur.

LG listing: India subsidiary valued more than South Korean parent co

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

LG Electronics India has broken the long-standing trend of large IPOs (₹10,000 crore and above), delivering weak listings, with its shares debuting at a premium of over 50% on domestic bourses. The previous highest listing gain was held by state-owned Coal India, whose IPO launched in 2010.

The strong debut also pushed LG Electronics India's market capitalisation to ₹1.16 lakh crore ($13.13 bn), significantly surpassing its South Korean parent, LG Electronics Inc, valued between $8 and $9 billion in Seoul. Except HDB Financial Services and Swiggy, recent large IPO listings in India have underperformed. Hyundai Motor India, which launched a ₹27,859 crore IPO last year, the largest in India's capital market history, debuted at a discount of about 1.5%. Similarly, LIC's ₹20,557 crore IPO launched in May 2022 was listed at an 8% discount.

Paytm's ₹18,300 crore IPO in November 2021 debuted with a discount of over 9% and dropped more than 20% within the first 15 minutes of trading. Shares of Tata Capital, which launched a ₹15,512 crore IPO last week, listed at ₹330 on the NSE on Monday, a modest premium of 1.23%.

Analysts stated multiple reasons for LG's blockbuster debut, the top being the issue available at an attractive valuation and LG's dominant position in India's electronic & home appliance market. Further, the recent GST rate cut on consumer goods is expected to lift near-term growth for appliance makers.

LG Electronics shares were listed at ₹1,715 on the BSE on Tuesday, a premium of ₹575 or 50.44% over the issue price of ₹1,140. On the NSE, LG Electronics debuted at a premium of 50.01% at ₹1,710 and settled 48% higher from its IPO price on the debut day at ₹1,682 per share. The strong listing came after LG Electronics' recorded one of the highest subscriptions ever for a large Indian IPO, with its initial share sale oversubscribed 54 times. "We initiate coverage on LGEIL with a BUY rating and a TP of Rs 1,800, premised on 40x FY28E EPS. LGEIL should trade at higher multiple, given the strong return ratios, higher OCF conversion and a strategic focus on localization," said Motilal Oswal Financial Services.

BoM profit rises 23% on higher interest income

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

PUNE-BASED public sector lender Bank of Maharashtra on Tuesday reported a 23.1% year-on-year growth in net profit at ₹1,633 crore for the September quarter, boosted by a healthy core income.

The lender said its net interest income rose 15.71% YoY to ₹3,248 crore. The bank, which already has the lowest non-performing assets (NAPs) among public sector banks, reported further improvement in asset quality, with the gross NPAs declining to 1.72% from 1.84% YoY and from 1.74% as of June 2025. Net NPAs also declined to 0.18%. Total income, which is net interest income and other incomes like fees, rose 13.73% to ₹4,093 crore in the reporting period, which helped the bank to have better cost to income ratio at 37.10 in the reporting period as against 38.81 in Q2FY25.

IMF revises upwards India's GDP growth forecast to 6.6% for FY26

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE International Monetary Fund (IMF) on Tuesday revised upwards India's gross domestic product (GDP) growth forecast for the current financial year to 6.6% as against its earlier estimate of 6.4%.

The global fund said the forecast is on the back of strong growth, which will offset the impact of US tariffs on Indian shipments. In its latest World Economic Outlook (WEO), the agency lowered the growth forecast by 20 basis points to 6.2% for 2026-27. The Indian economy increased by 7.8% in April-June, the highest in five quarters, before the disruptive US tariffs were imposed.

Earlier this month, the World Bank also raised the country's growth forecast for the current financial year to 6.5% from 6.3% estimated earlier, saying the country is expected to remain the fastest-growing major economy. In July, the IMF revised its forecast for the country's economic growth to 6.4% for both 2025 and 2026.

In its April 2025 World Economic Outlook, the global fund had projected the country's economic growth at 6.2% for 2025 and 6.3% for 2026. The IMF further said global growth is projected to slow from 3.3% in 2024 to 3.2% in 2025 and to 3.1% in 2026. This is an improvement relative to the July WEO Update -- but cumulatively 0.2 percentage point below forecasts made before the policy shifts in the October 2024 WEO, For emerging market and developing economies, the the global lender said the growth is projected to moderate from 4.3% in 2024 to 4.2% in 2025 and 4% in 2026.

SINGAPORE

ECONOMIC GROWTH SLOWS TO 2.9% IN Q3

Singapore's gross domestic product expanded by 2.9% year-on-year in the third quarter, slowing from a 4.5% growth in the previous quarter. On a quarter-on-quarter seasonally-adjusted basis, Singapore's GDP expanded by 1.3%, slower than 1.5% quarterly growth logged in the second quarter, reported the city-state's Ministry of Trade and Industry (MTI). Singapore's manufacturing sector was flat in the third quarter on year, the construction sector expanded by 3.1% YoY, while the services sector grew by 3.5%, said MTI. Third quarter economic growth "was weighed down by output declines in the biomedical manufacturing and general manufacturing cluster," the ministry said. In the services sector, growth was especially strong in the IT and information services segment, said MTI. Separately, the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS), the city-state's central bank, on Tuesday announced it will leave its monetary policy unchanged.

JAPAN

IMF REVISES ECONOMIC FORECAST HIGHER

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) revised higher on Tuesday its 2025 economic growth forecast for Japan and projected the nation's central bank to raise rates over medium term to about 1.5% from current 0.5%. In its World Economic Outlook report, the IMF projected Japan's economy to expand 1.1% in 2025, up from 0.1% last year and higher than 0.7% growth estimated in July. It expects growth to slow to 0.6% in 2026, up 0.1 percentage point from the projection made in July. An expected pickup in real wage growth will support private consumption, offsetting headwinds from uncertainty over US trade policy and soft external demand, the IMF said. The BOJ is likely to raise rates over the medium term toward 1.5%, a level considered neutral to the economy, and "consistent with keeping inflation and inflation expectations anchored" at its 2% target, it said.

THAILAND

GOVT RUSHES TRADE NEGOTIATORS TO TACKLE US TARIFFS

Thailand's Cabinet has ratified appointment of Ekniti Nitithanprapas, Deputy Prime Minister, as the Chairman of the Strategic Working Committee for Trade Negotiations with the US. Primary objective of the negotiation team is to secure a reduction in trade tariffs to below, or at least no more than, the current level of 19%, in a move deemed vital to protect the country's export sector and overall economy. The team comprises ministers from six key ministries, underscoring the government's integrated approach to the talks. Addressing the Cabinet on Tuesday, Prime Minister and Minister of Interior Anutin Charnvirakul issued a firm instruction for the committee to conclude negotiations swiftly, setting an ambitious deadline of four months. According to Siripong Angkasakulkiat, Deputy Spokesperson for the Prime Minister's Office, the US is Thailand's largest export market, and its tariff policies have a widespread impact.

How will new EPF withdrawal rules affect salaried class?

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

THE Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) has approved members to access up to 100% of their eligible fund balance, subject to a mandatory minimum balance cushion.

While most relaxations are likely to ease the process of withdrawal, experts cautioned that this move will dilute the safety net of lower and middle income group for their retirement period. Major relaxations include reducing minimum service requirement for withdrawals to just 12 months across all categories—down from previously diverging thresholds (5–7 years for education, marriage, or housing). Under the new rules, subscribers must retain 25% of their total EPF corpus in the account at all times, meaning effectively a maximum withdrawal of 75% during their active employment.

However, experts cautioned that now salaried class need to be more financially disciplined to keep a separate emergency corpus, otherwise they will be tempted to withdraw during any emergency situation.

"Premature final settlement has been extended to 12 months and final pension withdrawal to 36 months from existing 2 months. One is advised to always maintain an emergency corpus to manage at least 12 months of expenses as relying on EPFO corpus withdrawal in case of job loss would not be a prudent option," said Abhishek Kumar, founder of SahajMoney, a financial advisory platform. Earlier for partial withdrawal, there was a mandate of an individual serving different minimum service period for illness, marriage, etc. For "Special Circumstances," members no longer need to specify the reason when applying, removing a key procedural barrier.

KE Raghunathan, former CBT Member and Employers' Representative on the Board, said, "This move dilutes the foundation of social security for India's salaried workforce—especially the ones in lower and middle income group. EPFO should address long term concerns than short term requirements of members. By allowing repeated full withdrawals, people might be left with negligible retirement savings and no fallback when income ceases. The temptation to withdraw will rise, and the long-term consequences will be irreversible. Thus, the safety net will be compromised." Many believe the rules for full (or final) settlement in the event of unemployment have been tightened.

India fail to qualify for AFC Asian Cup

India failed to qualify for the 2027 AFC Asian Cup after going down 1-2 to Singapore thanks to a brace from Korea-born attacking midfielder Song Ui-young in the third round qualification match on Tuesday. Lallianzuala Chhangte's strike was cancelled out by Song's equalizer in the 14th minute and then he struck the winner in the 58th minute.

India players celebrate their clean sweep against West Indies in the two-match Test series on Tuesday | SAYANTAN GHOSH

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ New Delhi

INDIA came into the two-match Test series against West Indies with a series of questions, some requiring immediate answers. Right at the top was managing the home transition in red-ball cricket. R Ashwin, an Indian cricket stalwart, had featured in all of India's previous 65 home Tests since the off-spinner had made his debut against the same opposition in 2011.

How would they fare without one of the country's greatest match-winners in this format?

This was also going to be their first home series without both Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli. While their returns did dwindle over the last few series, they have set-up big wins. Even otherwise, losing both of them at the same time has led to an inexperience in the leadership group as well as the batting group.

Would India's next generation fill the void?

Rishabh Pant has been a cheat code for the country in the middle-order. In his absence, would Dhruv Jurel continue to grow in his role? And, long term, could he emerge as a specialist batter?

It's fair to say that one of India's biggest plus points from their 2-0 series win was they managed to put a tick against most of the questions they had coming into the series. There's certainly an element of having to caveat this particular series with conditions as well as the level of opposition but as far as results and the performances go, this was pretty much the more desired outcome.

"It was important to win this series at home," coach Gautam Gambhir said in the post-series press conference.

SCOREBOARD

India 1st innings: 518/5 decl. West Indies 1st innings: 248 West Indies 2nd innings (f/o): 390 India 2nd innings: (O/n) 63/1 Rahul not out 58, Sudharsan c Hope b Chase 39, Gill c Greaves b Chase 13, Jurel not out 6; Extras: 0; Total: (For 3 wkts, 35.2 ovs) 124; FoW: 2-88, 3-108; Bowling: Seales 3-0-14-0, Warrican 15.2-4-39-1, Pierre 8-0-35-0, Chase 9-2-36-2.

Under a new captain, especially when the new leader is young, it's important to learn the grammar of winning all over again. One can argue that only B Sai Sudharsan and Nitish Reddy haven't been part of a victorious series from the 11 but that's not the point. For all practical purposes, this is a new group playing under a new regime.

When a new group tries to build their own house, there's new plans in place. In essence, Gill, Gambhir & Co are trying to create their own legacy. The 26-year-old captain alluded to this point when he was describing the kind of cricket he wanted this group to play under his leadership.

"We are looking to play some hard, grinding cricket," he had said before the first Test at Ahmedabad. "Over the past few years, if you see the Test matches, they haven't got to five days. So what we are looking to do is play some good, hard cricket. All the Test matches that we played in England went pretty deep (all five Tests went the distance). And I think what you can expect from us is good, hard, grinding cricket and we won't be looking for any easy options.

"And I think we have the skills to dominate in any kind of situation and the kind of talent we have got in the team, we can turn around from any situation, so that's what we will be looking to play."

Across the last four days, this side has also learned something invaluable along the way. How to win a Test at home in conditions not conducive to spin bowling. In terms of a Test in India, the one in Delhi was only the fifth time that a side has lasted more than a 1000 legal (1211 to be exact) deliveries across two innings in India since January 2020. This is exactly what Gill meant when he said 'hard, grinding cricket'.

Gambhir hits out at Srikkanth after Rana criticism

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ New Delhi

GAUTAM Gambhir hit out against K Srikkanth after the latter criticised Harshit Rana's selection for the upcoming white-ball tour Down Under. "It's extremely shameful," the head coach said. "Criticise me, I can handle it."

In a video on his YouTube channel, he accused Rana of being a 'yes man'. "Best is to be like Harshit Rana and be a constant yes-man to Gambhir to be selected," the former chairman of selectors said. "There is only one permanent member, Harshit Rana. Nobody knows why he is there in the team. You don't pick some irrespective if they do well and take others even if they don't."

When Gambhir was asked the question, he said: "It's unfair that you are not even sparing a 23-year-old kid to run your YouTube channel," Gambhir, known for his combative nature on and off the field, said after the match. "It's unfair because, after all, his father is not some ex-chairman, an ex-cricketer, or an NRI. Whatever cricket he has played, he has played on his own merit, and in the future too, he will play on his own merit."

The 44-year-old took exception to Srikkanth's views as he saw the latter's comments as one that was made in bad faith. "Targeting someone individually is not fair. You can target someone for their performance, and for that, there are people... there are selectors," he said.

PLAYERS MUST MAKE LOT OF SACRIFICES: IVAN

ANMOL GURUNG @ Guwahati

IVAN SOZONOV is a well-established name in the world of badminton. Along with Vladimir Ivanov, his men's doubles partner, the former pro had notched up many highlight reel-worthy scalps during his playing career. Now, the former All England Open winner is one of the central figures who has been tasked with a role to lay the foundation of the doubles category in India.

Late on Tuesday afternoon, Sozonov's eyes were fixed on two of the country's future potentials in the men's doubles category of the ongoing BWF World Junior Championships here. Bhargav Ram Arigela and Viswa Tej Gobburu, the players in question, came in and walked away as winners in no time. In the last week or so, Indian junior shuttlers have been taking a step in the right direction in terms of results and Sozonov couldn't have been more pleased. In a free-wheeling chat with this newspaper, Sozonov, who's India's foreign head coach at the National Centre of Excellence in Guwahati, gave his two cents about the doubles category in the country, the current Junior Worlds squad, the NCE and more. Excerpts...

Q&A

● On things the current batch had focussed before the Jr Worlds...

We had focussed on a new scoring system. We were prepared for fast games. We wanted the shuttlers to be prepared for every point. Also, we played practice sessions with some teams with more intensity. Gradually, they improved their game style. A few had issues with their game discipline sometimes, meaning following the tactics throughout the match, not just two, three points. They improved and I'm proud of them. They worked hard and now they'll shift to seniors soon. We're still waiting for some good results at the senior level as well.

● On doubles taking more time and belief

In India, the attitude is a bit different in regards to how we see them (juniors) at this age (18). The Europeans, a lot of great players reached top level after the age of 25, 26. They have a lot of time. In India, there are a plenty of players and you need results fast but in men's doubles, you don't know when the results come. Mathias Boe, for example, became an elite operator after the 2008 Olympics, they became top-five players in the world. We are waiting, we have time to work now. We need to believe.

● On Jr World squad

All the players are good, especially the ones who were selected to be part of the national team. They work hard and they absolutely deserve it. For two years, they sacrificed a lot, spending almost the whole year in this academy. Now, we are waiting for rewards, individual medals. That is also important. After the mixed team result, everyone has had a confidence boost. Sometimes, all they need is a little more faith and belief.

● On National Centre of Excellence, Guwahati

It's the best. Of course, not the best venue for competition, but one of the best. But it is best when it comes to practice, that type of stadium. Yes, in China and Indonesia, there are a lot of courts, but this type of spectator-friendly space, a multiple venue arena. Now, it's dedicated 24/7 for badminton guys. Maybe, this generation has also come to this kind of facility. All the players who have come here have improved a great deal. When we were playing, we would dream of a place like this. Now they have everything, they must also prove themselves.

● On professionalism and importance of discipline

Players need some special attention. They are at a tricky age, they can be spoiled too. We don't need to give them too much freedom. If they deserve, they can go of course. But in other countries, Malaysia, Indonesia...especially in Indonesia, the players spend the whole year in the camp. They can't go out, they can't meet their parents. It's because this (camp) is for professionals. When you come here, you must understand, you have to make plenty of sacrifices. Of course, you do need to relax sometimes but not much. If they complain, they must figure things out. We don't select everyone here. Only players who have potential, only who want to work, deserve to practice here.

Belgium's Kevin De Bruyne celebrates scoring his side's third goal | AP

Cape Verde 2nd-least populated nation in WC

AGENCIES @ Jo'Burg/Reykjavik

CAPE VERDE beat Eswatini 3-0 on Monday to secure a spot at the 2026 World Cup, booking their place in football's global showpiece for the very first time. The team from an archipelago off the coast of Senegal with about 550,000 inhabitants becomes the second-least populous nation to reach the World Cup, after Iceland, with just over 350,000, at Russia 2018.

Cape Verde won Group D with 23 points, four more than Cameroon, who hold the African record for World Cup appearances with eight. Cameroon were held 0-0 by Angola in Yaounde.

France held, Belgium win

France missed a chance to secure a spot at the 2026 World Cup after being held to 2-2 at Iceland, as Belgium came from behind to win at Wales 4-2 with a pair of penalty kicks converted by Kevin de Bruyne. The result in Reykjavik on Monday halted France's perfect start in European qualifying after three straight victories.

Sri Lanka, New Zealand split points

AGENCIES @ Colombo

SRI LANKA and New Zealand shared points as their Women's World Cup match was abandoned due to persistent rain after strong batting performance by the hosts here on Tuesday. Opting to bat, Nilakshika De Silva's belligerent fifty was the perfect antithesis to skipper Chamari Athapaththu's graceful half-century as Sri Lanka posted a challenging 258 for 6. However, rain lashed the R Premadasa Stadium just before New Zealand began their chase and the match could not resume from that point.

After the washout, Sri Lanka continued to stay at the seventh place, having collected 2 points from four games while New Zealand, who now have 3 points, were static at number five. This is the second World Cup game that has been washed out with Sri Lanka's fixture against Australia also abandoned because of rain. Brief scores: Sri Lanka 258/6 in 50 ovs (Chamari 53, Nilashika n.o 55; Sophie 3/54) vs New Zealand (No result as rain washed out second innings).

Desperate Pak seek first win

Facing unbeaten England, Pakistan look for their two points. A look...

Focus on Muneeba

Sidra Amin is their best batter so far but she is not the kind to take attack to the rivals. It is the role of opener Muneeba Ali. For Pakistan to have any chance vs England, they need her to come good.

England favourites

Three wins out of three games has put England in second place on the table. Another win could all but seal their spot in the semis.The 2017 champions fittingly will start favourites once again.

Tanvi storms into next round, Unnati advances

ANMOL GURUNG @ Guwahati

WITH the individual events for Eye-Level Cups at the ongoing BWF World Junior Championships still at its nascent stage, there was high activity at the playing arena of the National Centre of Excellence in Amingaon, here on Tuesday.

With back-to-back matches being held across nine courts, all the shuttlers were looking to bring their best game to the court. So were the Indians, a few of whom had their parents/friends at the stands, rooting for them. Playing the fifth match of the day on Court 3, Tanvi Sharma, the No 1 seed in women's singles, showed why she is one of the contenders for a medal. Wiktoria Kaletka of Poland was a mere passenger as the Indian, who trains at the venue, crushed her. The match was done and dusted within 11 minutes with the score reading 15-2, 15-1 in the Indian's favour.

Unnati Hooda also successfully navigated past her opening hurdle as she got the better of Hong Kong's Liu Hoi Kiu Anna 15-8, 15-9. However, it was the end of the road for Asia Junior Championships bronze medallist Vennala Kalagotla. The Indian lost 6-15, 5-15 against Tonrug Saeheng of Thailand.

Hopeful Kerala begin Ranji campaign against Maharashtra

MANISHA VCS @Kochi

A HOPEFUL squad of Kerala cricket team is beginning this year's Ranji trophy journey with their opening match against Maharashtra on Wednesday. The team which had a sensational run in the tournament last year were finalists in the league, only losing to the champions Vidharbha in the finals.

With the confidence of the last years success and retaining almost the same squad, the team will play Maharashtra from October 15 to 19 at Chandrasekhar Nair Stadium, Thiruvananthapuram.

"For achieving anything in life, what we need is 'self-belief', I believe the team has that quality that takes them to heights," says Amay Khurasiya, the head-coach of the Kerala team, and the master-mind behind the last years sensational games of the team.

"The team has understood what is requires to be at the top. This year, we a great balance in the team with good blend of youth and experience," the coach added.

"Ahead of the tournament, the team has had enough camps and facilities. The Kerala Cricket Association (KCA) had even arranged camps during monsoon season this year, which is very difficult to carry out here in Kerala. All this has boosted the confidence of the team," the coach added.

DID YOU KNOW?
The earliest fortifications were not built, but were natural features like rivers, hills, and forests that provided a line of defence

Deconstructing Nature's Little Engineers

Ants are social insects. Anywhere between 12,000 and 22,000 ant species are known to exist on Earth, with 2.5 million ants per human being, according to a 2022 study.

PHYSICAL FEATURES

Body
Divided into three segments — head, thorax, and abdomen — separated by a narrow "waist" (petiole) that has one or two nodes

Exoskeleton
A tough external skeleton provides protection and muscle attachment points

Antennae
Elbowed, flexible antennae are a primary sensory organ used for smell, touch, and communication

Legs
Six legs are attached to the thorax

Jaws (Mandibles)
Powerful, strong jaws are used for cutting, digging, carrying, and defence

Size and color
Range from 0.08 to 1 inch in length, and are commonly yellow, brown, red, or black

Wings
Males and queens have wings for a single mating flight, while workers are wingless

SOCIAL AND BEHAVIORAL FEATURES

Social structure: Live in organised colonies with a clear division of labour into castes: queens, workers, and males

Communication: Rely on pheromones (chemical signals) for alarm, food location, and communication, as well as physical contact with their antennae

Strength: Can lift and carry objects many times their own body weight

Defence: Defend their colony with strong jaws and some species have stingers or can spray formic acid

Deep beneath the dry soils of the Iberian Peninsula, scientists have discovered an evolutionary anomaly — a harvester ant that clones another species to raise its workers

Ants at work

IF evolution could be accused of mischief, this would be its most audacious prank. In the sun-baked landscapes of Spain and Portugal, a small harvester ant has found a way to bend biology to its will. The queen of Messor ibericus does not simply reproduce her own kind; she clones males of a different species — Messor structor — and uses them to create a hybrid workforce.

For scientists who spend their lives unpicking the intricacies of ant societies, this discovery is nothing short of astonishing. Ants are already masters of adaptation. They farm, wage wars, enslave rival colonies, and in some cases, queens can reproduce without males at all. But cloning another species entirely — reproducing its genetic code within one's own lineage — is unprecedented.

Ants are, by any measure, the quiet engineers of the Earth. Numbering in the quadrillions, they move more soil than rivers do, aerating ecosystems and cycling nutrients through the ground. Across 12,000+ known species, evolution has tested every conceivable model of reproduction and cooperation. Yet none had been known to engage in what researchers now call xenoparity — literally "foreign birth".

The mechanism itself borders on the surreal. A queen Messor ibericus mates, as most ant queens do, storing sperm in a tiny internal pouch that can remain viable for years. When she uses this sperm from Messor structor males, the fertilised eggs develop into hybrid workers — sterile daughters with mixed DNA, perfectly adapted for toil. They collect seeds, excavate tunnels, feed larvae, and defend the nest.

So far, so plausible. Hybridisation is not unheard of in ants. But then came the anomaly. On islands and isolated regions where Messor structor does not exist — Sicily being a key example — colonies of Messor ibericus still produce the same hybrid workers. The genetic evidence was unambiguous: the queens were somehow manufacturing structor males without access to them.

REPLICATION OF A FOREIGN GENOME

The explanation is as elegant as it is unsettling. When the queen lays eggs destined to become males, she effectively suppresses or discards her own nuclear DNA and replaces it with that of Messor structor. The resulting males are, genetically speaking, clones of the other species — with the single exception of their mitochondria, which still carry her maternal signature. These cloned males then mate with her daughters, restoring the hybrid workforce generation after generation.

It is a reproductive loop with few, if any, parallels in the natural world. A queen who perpetuates her species by borrowing the genetic identity of another. A colony whose survival depends on the continued replication of a foreign genome.

To evolutionary biologists, the discovery is profound. Species boundaries, once thought solid, begin to look porous under such scrutiny. "What defines a species if one can regularly generate the genetic material of another?" asks one of the researchers involved in the study. It is not just a taxonomic curiosity; it forces a reevaluation of heredity, identity and cooperation at the molecular level.

There are theories as to how such a system evolved. The most plausible begins with a parasitic relationship: Messor ibericus queens may once have mated opportunistically with Messor structor males to gain hardier workers — hybrids that combined the strengths of both species. Over generations, this dependency deepened until the queen's reproductive machinery adapted to produce structor males internally, even in isolation. What began as parasitism evolved into a kind of genetic self-sufficiency — or, depending on your view, a refined form of theft.

DIVERSE REPRODUCTIVE STRATEGIES

Ant biology is fertile ground for such evolutionary experiments. The group already hosts a staggering diversity of reproductive strategies. In some species, queens reproduce clonally, creating daughters that are near-perfect genetic replicas of themselves. Others maintain colonies with multiple queens, diluting genetic control, but enhancing survival. Still others enslave rival colonies entirely, forcing captured workers to care for their brood. But the Messor ibericus case goes a step further — it appropriates another species' blueprint and weaves it into its own life cycle.

For evolutionary scientists, it is also a reminder of how fluid nature can be. Concepts like "species" or "individual" are human conveniences, not absolutes. In practice, life operates more like a continuum — a shifting spectrum of alliances, mergers, and borrowings. What Messor ibericus achieves is not mere mimicry; it's an act of evolutionary engineering, a solution to ecological isolation that borders on creative genius.

The ecological role of these ants only deepens the intrigue. As harvester ants, they gather and store seeds, influencing local plant communities and shaping soil composition. Their colonies may number tens of thousands, their tunnels running deep, their organisation seamless. Within those subterranean chambers, a single queen presides over a population that is, genetically speaking, half alien — and yet wholly functional.

Molecular biologists now face the challenge of unravelling the mechanism itself. How does an egg "decide" which DNA to keep or discard? What cellular machinery enables the insertion of an entire foreign genome? Early studies suggest a form of selective fertilisation or chromosomal replacement during egg formation, but much remains speculative. Whatever the mechanism, it represents a level of reproductive control that blurs the line between natural process and genetic manipulation.

In broader terms, the discovery underscores the sheer inventiveness of evolution. Life, when constrained, finds a loophole. A queen cut off from her mates finds a way to recreate them. A species at risk of losing its labour force learns to manufacture it from borrowed code. These are not random acts of mutation, but the results of millions of years of selective pressure distilled into a molecular trick.

The Iberian harvester ant may be no larger than a grain of rice, but its discovery is monumental. It tells us that life's rules are written in pencil, not stone. Evolution is not a hierarchy of order, but a restless improvisation — a long, unending experiment in survival. And sometimes, to endure, a queen must do the unthinkable: steal another's genes and make them her own.

LIVING DATA

ARTIFICIAL NEURONS THAT WORK LIKE REAL ONES

ENGINEERS at the University of Massachusetts Amherst have developed an artificial neuron whose electrical activity closely matches that of natural brain cells. The innovation builds on the team's earlier research using protein nanowires made from electricity-producing bacteria. This new approach could pave the way for computers that run with the efficiency of living systems and may even connect directly with biological tissue. "Our brain processes an enormous amount of data," says Shuai Fu, a graduate student in electrical and computer engineering at UMass Amherst and lead author of the study published in Nature Communications. "But its power usage is very, very low, especially compared to the amount of electricity it takes to run a Large Language Model, like ChatGPT." The human body operates with remarkable electrical efficiency — more than 100 times greater than that of a typical computer circuit. The brain alone contains billions of neurons, specialised cells that send and receive electrical signals throughout the body. Performing a task such as writing a story uses only about 20 watts of power in the human brain, whereas a large language model can require more than a megawatt to accomplish the same thing. Engineers have long sought to design artificial neurons for more energy-efficient computing, but reducing their voltage to match biological levels has been a major obstacle. "Previous versions of artificial neurons used 10 times more voltage — and 100 times more power — than the one we have created," says Jun Yao, associate professor of electrical and computer engineering at UMass Amherst. Because of this, earlier designs were far less efficient and couldn't connect directly with living neurons, which are sensitive to stronger electrical signals. "Ours register only 0.1 volts, which about the same as the neurons in our bodies," says Yao. There are a wide range of applications for Fu and Yao's new neuron, from redesigning computers along bio-inspired, and far more efficient principles, to electronic devices that could speak to our bodies directly. "We currently have all kinds of wearable electronic sensing systems," says Yao, "but they are comparatively clunky and inefficient. Every time they sense a signal from our body, they have to electrically amplify it so that a computer can analyse it. That intermediate step of amplification increases both power consumption and the circuit's complexity, but sensors built with our low-voltage neurons could do without any amplification at all." The secret ingredient in the team's new low-powered neuron is a protein nanowire synthesised from the remarkable bacteria Geobacter sulfurreducens, which also has the superpower of producing electricity.

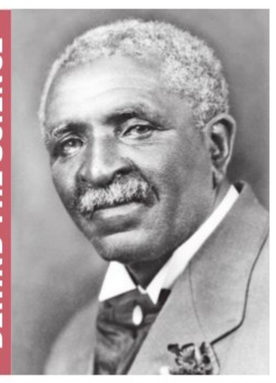
BEHIND THE SCIENCE



FEW figures in American history embody the union of intellect, humility, and purpose quite like George Washington Carver. Born into slavery on July 12, 1864, on a small farm in Diamond, Missouri, Carver rose from those humble and uncertain beginnings to become one of the most celebrated agricultural scientists in American history. His life was a testament to perseverance, curiosity, and a profound love for nature. At a time when racial prejudice often stifled opportunity, Carver carved out a place for himself through sheer intellect and innovation, reshaping American agriculture and inspiring generations of scientists and farmers alike.

Carver's most significant contributions lay in the field of agricultural chemistry, where he championed sustainable farming, long before the term was coined. Working at the Tuskegee Institute in Alabama for over four decades, he studied the exhausted cotton fields of the American South and sought ways to restore their fertility. His solution was elegant and transformative: crop rotation. By alternating cotton with nitrogen-fixing plants like peanuts, sweet potatoes, and soybeans, Carver not only rejuvenated the soil, but also created new sources of income for impoverished farmers.

Beyond soil management, Carver's research yielded hundreds of practical applications for these alternative crops. He developed more than 300 uses for the peanut alone — including cooking oil, cosmetics, dyes, paints, plastics, and even fuel. From sweet potatoes, he produced over a hundred derivatives, ranging from flour and vinegar to synthetic rubber. While he never patented most of his discoveries, preferring to share them freely, his work had an enduring economic and environmental impact.

Carver, who died on January 5, 1943, in Tuskegee, was not merely a scientist, but also a teacher and philosopher. He believed science should serve humanity and nature alike, once writing: "It is not the style of clothes one wears, neither the kind of automobile one drives, nor the amount of money one has in the bank, that counts. These mean nothing. It is simply service that measures success."

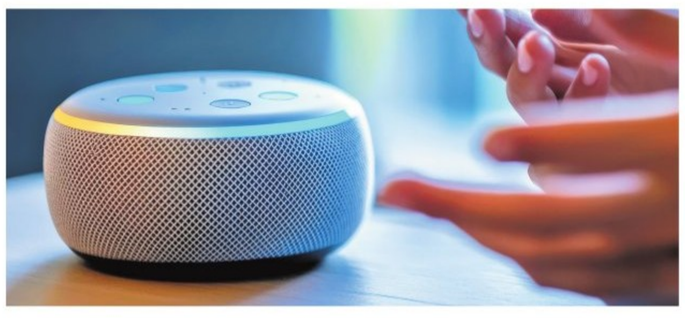
HOW IT WORKS

LISTENING MACHINES: HOW SMART SPEAKERS UNDERSTAND US

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE

IN just a few short years, smart speakers have evolved from futuristic novelties to everyday companions, quietly listening on kitchen counters and bedside tables. Devices like Amazon's Alexa, Google Home, and Apple's HomePod have become the modern household's invisible helpers — playing music, setting reminders, dimming lights, or answering questions with casual ease. But behind that friendly voice lies a complex web of artificial intelligence, natural language processing, and cloud computing that allows a machine to understand — and respond to — human speech.

At the heart of every smart speaker is a cluster of microphones tuned to detect the wake word — such as "Hey Google" or "Alexa". These microphones use 'beamforming', a technology that filters background noise and focuses on the direction of the speaker's voice. Once the wake word is detected, the device begins recording and transmitting your command to remote servers, where the real intelligence resides.



This is where AI takes over. The audio data is converted into text using automatic speech recognition (ASR), a process that breaks down the sound waves into phonetic components and matches them against vast linguistic databases. From there, natural language processing (NLP) interprets the meaning of the words — identifying intent, context, and even emotional tone. If you say, "Play some jazz," the system knows you want music, recognises the genre, and connects to your preferred streaming service to make it happen.

Over time, machine learning enables these systems to grow more accurate. They adapt to regional accents, learn household routines, and anticipate preferences. AI models are continuously trained on massive datasets of speech patterns, improving their ability to parse natural conversation and respond in ways that feel increasingly human. Some systems even incorporate sentiment analysis to detect politeness or frustration, subtly adjusting tone and phrasing.

Beyond convenience, smart speakers are becoming central to the connected home — controlling thermostats, door locks, and appliances through IoT. Yet their power comes with ethical questions about privacy and data use. Every spoken command contributes to refining these systems, meaning users are both beneficiaries and unwitting participants in their evolution.

Ultimately, smart speakers represent a remarkable fusion of voice recognition, AI, and cloud computing — a bridge between human language and machine logic. They don't just hear us; they learn from us, slowly reshaping the way we interact with technology — one spoken word at a time.

Gaza truce holds amid hostage, prisoner swap

Last living hostages return to Israel, bodies repatriated, but future of Gaza remain uncertain

GAZA CITY

AFTER the release of the last living hostages and Palestinian prisoners and detainees, the tenuous ceasefire in Gaza was holding Tuesday while questions remain over other key parts of a US plan for the region.

The long list of uncertainties includes when Hamas will return to Israel the bodies of the 24 hostages believed to be dead in Gaza, and Israel's insistence that a weakened Hamas disarm. The future governance of Gaza is also unclear.

Gaza's Health Ministry said Tuesday that the bodies of three people killed by the Israeli military in the northern part of the territory were taken to Al Ahli hospital. The Israeli military said troops there had "opened fire to remove the threat" of several people approaching them and not complying with orders to stop. It didn't immediately comment on any casualties. The ceasefire agreement calls for Israeli forces to pull back to where they were in August, before launching their latest offensive. Gaza's Nasser Hospital said Tuesday it received the first 45 bodies of Palestinians who had been detained by the Israeli military since the October 7, 2023, Hamas-led attack that triggered the war.

The bodies were handed over by the International Committee of the Red Cross as part of the Israel-Hamas ceasefire agreement. A total of 450 bodies were to be returned to Gaza from Israel, the hospital said.

The hospital said some of the bodies showed signs of torture and having their hands bound. It was not immediately clear when or how they died.

On Monday, the last 20 living hostages were released to Israel in exchange for 1,808 Palestinian prisoners and detainees. Hamas is yet to return the remains of 24 hostages under the ceasefire deal. Palestinians who were freed in past exchanges have reported frequent beatings, insufficient food and deprivation of medical care in Israeli prisons. A 2024 U.N. report said that since October 7, 2023, thousands of Palestinians have been held arbitrarily and incommunicado by Israel, often shackled, blindfolded, deprived of food, water, sleep and medical care and subjected to torture or degrading treatment.

Israel maintains that it follows international and domestic legal standards for the treatment of prisoners and that any violations by prison personnel are investigated. Far-right Israeli National Security Minister Itamar Ben-Gvir, who is in charge of prisons, has repeatedly boasted of making prison conditions for Palestinians as harsh as possible while meeting the letter of the law. AP

Hamas forces back on Gaza streets

Hamas security forces were tightening their grip on Gaza's ruined cities Tuesday even as global support mounted for a US-backed deal that would see them disarmed. When bus loads of prisoners freed from Israeli jails arrived in Gaza on Monday, fighters from Hamas's Ezzedine al-Qassam Brigades provided crowd control. In the north of the territory, as Israeli forces withdrew from Gaza City, the Hamas government's black-masked armed police resumed street patrols. Meanwhile, a Hamas security unit has been conducting operations against armed clans and gangs, some alleged to have Israeli backing.

Trump says 'will decide' on solution to conflict

US President Donald Trump said Tuesday he "will decide what I think is right" on a long-term solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Trump made a brief visit to the Middle East to join regional leaders Monday in signing a declaration meant to cement a ceasefire in Gaza after two years of war. Addressing the decades-long Israeli-Palestinian conflict, Trump noted "a lot of people like the one state solution, some people like the two state solutions. We'll have to see." "I will decide what I think is right, but I'd be in coordination with other states and other countries," he told journalists aboard Air Force One.

15-MEMBER PALESTINIAN PANEL SELECTED

Egyptian Foreign Minister Badr Abdelatty told The Associated Press ahead of Monday's summit said that 15 Palestinian technocrats have been selected to administer postwar Gaza. He said their names were already vetted by Israel, without disclosing them. "We need to deploy them to take care of the daily life of the people in Gaza, and the Board of Peace should support and supervise the flow of finance and money, which will come for the reconstruction of Gaza," he said, referring to a board that would govern Gaza and be chaired by US President Donald Trump. Abdelatty said the 15-member committee had already been approved by all Palestinian factions, including Hamas.

GAZA RUBBLE COULD BUILD 13 PYRAMIDS: UN

The UN development agency says the amount of rubble in Gaza would stack 12 meters high in all of New York's Central Park or be enough to build 13 giant pyramids in Giza in Egypt. Jaco Cillers, special representative of UNDP administrator for a program to help Palestinians, says the latest joint estimate from the UN, the European Union and the World Bank is that $70 billion will be required to rebuild Gaza. That figure was tallied in September, and up from $53 billion estimated in February. "The estimated damage and rubble, throughout the whole of Gaza is in the region of 55 million tons," he said. "Another way to put it, apart from the example from Central Park that I mentioned, is (that it's) also equal to 13 pyramids in Giza."

Tougher English test compounds British visa hurdle

LONDON

THE UK government on Tuesday tabled tougher new English language test requirements on visa applicants, including from India, in Parliament as part of a wider crackdown on soaring levels of immigration into the country.

The new 'Secure English Language Test' will be conducted by a Home Office-approved provider, with the results to be verified as part of a subsequent visa application process for all skilled workers from January 8, 2026. An applicant's standard of speaking, listening, reading and writing English must be equivalent to A-Level or Class 12, referred to as level B2, which the Home Office believes will ensure applicants are 'better able to integrate into life in the UK'.

"This country has always welcomed those who come to this country and contribute, but it is unacceptable for migrants to come here without learning our language, unable to contribute to our national life," said UK Home Secretary Shabana Mahmood.

"If you come to this country, you must learn our language and play your part," she said.

Laid out as part of a written ministerial statement (WMS) in the House of Commons this week, the measures form part of the British government's 'Immigration White Paper' from May, designed to tighten the visa regime.

From January 1, 2027, international students on the Graduate Route visa will have 18 months, down from two years, to find a graduate-level job, while PhD graduates will still get three years of permission.

"This change is informed by data showing that too many graduates are not progressing into graduate-level employment, which the Graduate Route was created to facilitate access to. It is intended to ensure that those who remain in the UK transition into graduate-level jobs and properly contribute to the UK economy," reads the parliamentary statement from Home Office Minister Mike Tapp. Finance requirements for student visas will also be increased for the 2025-2026 academic year, meaning foreign students will have to demonstrate they have sufficient funds to support themselves. AP

EU and G7 respond to China rare-earth curbs

BRUSSELS: The EU is working with G7 partners to counter China's new export controls on rare-earth minerals, crucial for electronics, defense, and auto industries, EU Trade Commissioner Maros Sefcovic said on Tuesday. The restrictions have already forced some European companies to halt production. "This targets civilian industries directly," he said, pledging close talks with China and G7 allies. The US plans 100% tariffs, and Denmark warns it could escalate the trade conflict in Europe.

16 dead in Dhaka garment factory fire

DHAKA: As many as 16 people were killed on Tuesday when a fire ripped through a chemical and garments factory in Dhaka, Bangladesh, officials said. The blaze began in the warehouse before spreading to a multi-storey garments facility, with victims suffering severe inhalation injuries from flammable chemicals, Fire Service Director Tajul Islam Chowdhury said. Relatives searched for missing loved ones amid the chaos. Bangladesh, where safety standards are often ignored, has seen deadly fires in 2012 and 2021, killing dozens.

Malaysia, US push for Thai and Cambodia ceasefire deal

KUALA LUMPUR

MALAYSIA and the US are facilitating efforts to secure an expanded ceasefire agreement between Thailand and Cambodia that they hope will be signed during a Southeast Asian summit later this month, Malaysia Foreign Minister Mohamad Hasan said on Tuesday.

Thailand and Cambodia engaged in five days of combat in late July that killed dozens of people and displaced more than 260,000. They agreed to a ceasefire only after mediation by Malaysia's Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim and pressure from Donald Trump, who threatened to withhold trade privileges unless they agreed on a truce.

Tensions have remained high since the truce, particularly after Thai soldiers were injured by land mines in August while patrolling a buffer zone between the countries. Thailand accused Cambodia of laying new mines in violation of the ceasefire, which the government in Phnom Penh has strongly denied. Thailand Prime Minister Anutin Charnvirakul has said Phnom Penh must accept four conditions.

They include removal of heavy weapons from the border, land mine clearance, assistance to curb cross-border crime and managment of sensitive border zones to avoid further conflicts.Trump is scheduled to attend the conference in Malaysia's capital, Kuala Lumpur, on October 26 and hopes to witness the signing of the Kuala Lumpur Accord between Thailand and Cambodia, Mohamad said. AP

Kharkiv hospital hit amid plunging Western support

KYIV

RUSSIAN forces launched powerful glide bombs and drones against Ukraine's second-largest city in overnight attacks, hitting a hospital and wounding seven people, an official said Tuesday, as European military aid for Kyiv dropped sharply and Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy prepared to ask US President Donald Trump for Tomahawk missiles.

The Russian attack on Kharkiv in Ukraine's northeast hit the city's main hospital, forcing the evacuation of 50 patients, regional head Oleh Syniehubov said. The attack's main targets were energy facilities, Zelenskyy said, without providing details of what was hit.

"Every day, every night, Russia strikes power plants, power lines, and our (natural) gas facilities," Zelenskyy said on Telegram. Russian long-range strikes on its neighbor's power grid are part of a campaign since Moscow launched a full-scale invasion in February 2022 to disable Ukraine's power supply, denying civilians heat and running water during the bitter winter. The Ukrainian leader urged foreign countries to help blunt Russia's long-range attacks by providing more air defense systems for the country, which is almost the size of Texas and hard to defend from the air in its entirety.

"We are counting on the actions of the US and Europe, the G7, all partners who have these systems and can provide them to protect our people," Zelenskyy said. "The world must force Moscow to sit down at the table for real negotiations."

But the latest data on foreign military aid to Ukraine showed a sharp drop-off in recent help. Military aid in July and August plunged by 43% compared to the first half of the year, Germany's Kiel Institute, which tracks support to Ukraine, said Tuesday. AFP

24K ACCOUNTS BLOCKED OVER GAMBLING

Authorities have blocked 23,929 bank accounts linked to online gambling as part of a nationwide crackdown, the Ministry of Communication and Digital said Tuesday. Coordinated with the Financial Services Authority, the move aims to cut off financial flows from illegal gambling, identified through cyber patrols and public reports. Minister Meutya Hafid urged citizens to report suspicious sites or accounts via official platforms. Authorities removed 2.8 million harmful online contents, mostly gambling-related, from October 2024 to September 2025.

US offers $20 billion lifeline to Argentina; Trump to host leader Javier Milei at DC

BUENOS AIRES

ARGENTINA's libertarian leader is lavishing praise on Donald Trump ahead of his first White House meeting with the US president on Tuesday. It's a tactic that has helped transform President Javier Milei's cash-strapped country into one of the Trump administration's closest allies.

The effusive declarations are nothing new for Milei 'whose dramatic cuts to state spending and attacks on 'woke leftists' have won him a following among US conservatives.

"Your commitment to life, freedom and peace has restored hope to the world," Milei wrote on social media Monday, congratulating the US president on securing a ceasefire deal in Gaza, where a truce is holding after a devastating, two-year Israel-Hamas war.

"It is an honour to consider you not only an ally in the defence of those values, but also a dear friend and an example of leadership that inspires all those who believe in freedom," he said.

The Trump-Milei bromance has already paid off for Argentina most recently, to the tune of a USD 20 billion bailout.

Experts say Milei comes to the White House with two clear objectives. One is to negotiate US tariff exemptions or reductions for Argentine products.

The other is to see how the United States will implement a USD 20 billion currency swap line to prop up Argentina's peso and replenish its depleted foreign currency reserves ahead of crucial midterm elections later this month. AP

Madagascar army seizes power, ousts Prez Rajoelina

ANTANANARIVO

A colonel in an elite military unit in Madagascar said on Tuesday that the armed forces are taking power in the Indian Ocean nation in what appeared to confirm that President Andry Rajoelina had been removed in a coup. Col Michael Randrianirina's announcement in front of a ceremonial presidential palace in the capital, Antananarivo, came almost immediately after parliament voted to impeach Rajoelina, who has fled the country because of the rebellion by soldiers.

"We are taking power," the colonel said. Randrianirina said in front of reporters that the military would form a council composed of officers from the military and the gendarmerie law enforcement force. A prime minister would be appointed to "quickly" form a civilian government, he said. He also said the constitution and the powers of the High Constitutional Court had been suspended. He said a referendum would be held in two years, although the details of that were not immediately clear. Rajoelina had faced calls to resign through weeks of anti-government demonstrations that rocked the country and were led by young Gen Z protesters.

Protests escalated Saturday as Randrianirina and CAPSAT troops opposed Rajoelina, forcing him into hiding. AP

India men's hockey team captain Harmanpreet Singh in action

PIC: HOCKEY INDIA

India men's hockey team captain Harmanpreet Singh, who is credited with ushering in a new era for the team, sits down with CE on the sidelines of a chess masterclass in the city, to talk about the intense preparations for the elusive World Cup

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

HUDDLED together in bright pink and blue jerseys, members of the India men's hockey team cheered and laughed, giving their two cents on what move to make next. This was no hockey match or training sesh, but a chess master class conducted by former International chess player and co-owner of American Gambits Prachura P Padakannaya at the Sports Authority of India's complex in Malathahalli.

As we take a brisk walk from the conference room to the complex's mess, captain Harmanpreet Singh shares a fond memory of playing chess with his wife, Amandeep Kaur, even though, in his words, they 'were quite bad'. They don't get to play much anymore as Singh explains with a laugh, "My daughter doesn't let us play. She picks pieces up and throws them away to disturb us."

Singh and the team are in Bengaluru fresh off their Asia Cup win against South Korea last month, preparing for the Sultan Azlan Shah Cup, scheduled for November in Malaysia. The win came after an eight-year Asia Cup drought for the team with the pressure to perform tangible. Recalling what facing the South Korean team at such a crucial juncture was like, the captain says, "Our league match against Korea was a draw because even though we knew we're the best team in Asia, everything can change depending on the situation. But we knew we could do better and in the last match, whatever opportunities we had, we turned them into goals."

Right now, the team is working on weak areas that the Asia Cup matches shone a light on, as Singh explains, "We were struggling in the Asia Cup league matches. We are learning from those mistakes and working on improving the defense."

As captain, Singh has been credited with ushering in a new era for the team. Fondly called 'sarpanch sahab' by fans, Singh has captained the team to wins in the 2022 Asian Games, a bronze in the 2024 Olympics, and now the Asia Cup. His style of captaincy seems to be a mix of genuine care and tough love. "You have to look after your teammates – if they're fit enough or if they're struggling with something. And of course before or during the match, the words you say to your teammates matter a lot. I'm also a little aggressive because it's important to motivate the team. Small things like team bonding outside of matches also matters, and the coach and I are always thinking of ways to improve it," he explains.

He doesn't let defeat get him down either, replying with a brief "Don't overthink it," when asked how he deals with disappointment. He adds, "What's in the past is in the past. If we're not doing well I analyse things and think about how we can improve. But if mistakes are happening, I don't overthink them during the match."

On a personal front, 2025 has been a happening year for Singh, who received the Khel Ratna earlier this year. "Immediately after I got the news, I spoke to my wife and teammates. They were happy. It was a proud moment for me and my family," he says with a smile. But his next goal, both personally and professionally is the hockey world cup happening next year. He says, "It's been 50 years [since India won] so our aim is to make sure we are ready on the field."

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

1. Bengaluru is surrounded and well protected by many durgs and hillocks. This includes the Ramgiri Hills or Ramadevara Betta, located about 50km south of Bengaluru and lent its name to the township known as Ramanagara. The town, known for its sericulture was called Shamserabad during Tipu Sultan's regime and was named Closepet by the British. Name the well-known '70s Bollywood movie shot in the hills.

2. Shivagange, a fortified hill, with a height of about 4,500ft above sea level and located about 50km on the western outskirts of Bengaluru, houses the Gavi Gangadhareshwara temple, expanded by the 12th-century Hoysala King Vishnuvardhana. River Kumudvathi, a tributary of Arakavathi, has its origin atop the hill. The hill was fortified by Shivappa Nayaka and strengthened by Kempegowda during the 16th century. Name the district where the hill is located. Bengaluru Rural or Tumakuru?

3. Nandidurga (Nandi Hills), located about 60km north of Bengaluru, played a prominent and strategic role during the Anglo-Mysore wars. The hill was stormed and captured from Tipu Sultan by the British, led by Lord Cornwallis, in 1791. Bhoganandishwara, a 9th century temple at the foot of the hills, one of the oldest temples in Karnataka, has lent its name to the hills. In which district is this historic hill located?

Founder of Micro Forest, a terrarium studio

How to make terrariums at home

Choose the right container: Pick a clear glass vessel; a wide mouth helps you place layers cleanly, while a snug lid preserves humidity and reduces watering. Whether you choose a petite jar or a tall cylinder, opt for glass as it allows your miniature landscape to shine in all its detail.

Select compatible plants: Think soft green ferns, trailing moss, or tiny tropical houseplants – all of which create that lush, misty woodland atmosphere. Avoid succulents and cacti; they prefer open, airy spaces and won't enjoy the moisture of a closed terrarium.

ASK AN XPERT

Build a breathable base: Lay pebbles for drainage, then add a thin layer of activated charcoal to absorb odour and discourage mould. This hidden base keeps roots aerated and the microclimate stable.

Add substrate and plant with intention: Blend potting soil, cocopeat and a little sand; slope it to create depth. Tease roots, make small hollows with chopsticks, and stage taller plants at back. Mist lightly, tidy stray soil from glass, then close the lid.

Light and aftercare: Give bright, indirect light; avoid harsh sun that overheats glass. Watch for fogged walls: heavy condensation means less water or brief airing. Trim gently to keep proportions and pathways visible.

UNDERSTANDING FOOD CRAVINGS: WHY THEY HAPPEN AND HOW TO MANAGE THEM

We've all had those moments when the rain brings with it an irresistible craving for hot pakoras or a late-night urge for something sweet or salty. These impulses, known as food cravings, go far beyond simple hunger. They are powerful desires driven as much by the brain as by the body.

THE SCIENCE BEHIND CRAVINGS

- Cravings are closely linked to how our brain processes pleasure, memory and reward. When you see, smell or even think about a favourite food, certain neural pathways activate, releasing dopamine-the feel-good hormone. This makes food, particularly those high in sugar, salt or fat, feel rewarding.
- At a physiological level, hormonal imbalances can also trigger cravings. For instance, fluctuations in leptin and serotonin, hormones that regulate hunger and mood, may influence when and what you crave. These cravings often operate separately from true hunger, which is driven by the body's need for energy.
- Emotions play a major role too. Stress, boredom or sadness can all drive people to seek comfort in food. This "emotional eating" often leads to indulgence in calorie-dense foods like chocolate or fried snacks. Sometimes, cravings may also signal a nutritional deficiency. For example, craving salty foods could indicate a need for minerals like sodium or magnesium.

TYPES OF CRAVINGS

There are two broad kinds of cravings:

- Selective cravings: A strong desire for a specific food, such as a particular brand of chocolate or your favourite pizza.
- Non-selective cravings: A more general desire to eat anything, which may stem from dehydration or low energy levels. In such cases, drinking a glass of water can often reduce the urge.

HOW TO MANAGE THEM

While cravings are natural, managing them is crucial for maintaining healthy eating habits and supporting long-term weight goals. Here are a few strategies that can help:

- Eat within an hour of waking up to stabilise blood sugar levels.
- Include protein in every meal – eggs, lentils, tofu, chicken or paneer help promote satiety.
- Exercise at least four times a week for 30 minutes to regulate appetite hormones.
- Manage stress through meditation, breathing exercises or journaling to reduce cortisol, the hormone linked to stress-induced cravings.
- Stay hydrated throughout the day.
- Prioritise sleep to maintain hormonal balance.

THE MINDFUL APPROACH

Next time you crave something indulgent, pause for a moment. Ask yourself whether you're truly hungry or simply responding to habit or emotion. Choosing healthier alternatives like nuts, seeds, fruits or yoghurt can satisfy the urge without derailing your goals.

AN ODE TO WOMEN

Artist Doyil Joy's painting is an ode to the uncelebrated sheroes of India's rural ecosystem

Ten-20 feet high, giant bhaang shrubs at Urgam Valley, Uttarakhand

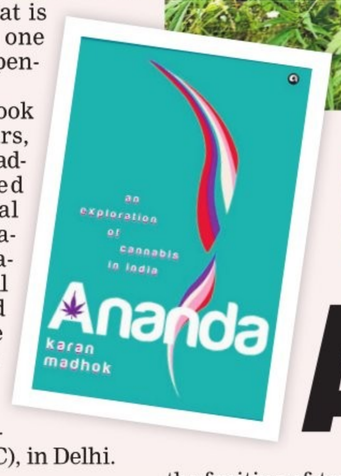
The chemistry behind a certain kind of joy, but a contraband in law – cannabis is a paradoxical experience. Karan Madhok's Ananda: An Exploration of Cannabis in India, discusses the history, science, and culture of this controversial plant and its many by-products

BLISS, CANNABIS AND THE LAW

PANKIL JHAJHRIA

IN 1992, Israeli chemist Raphael Mecholulam discovered a neurotransmitter. He named it 'anandamide', after the Sanskrit word for bliss. Its chemical cousin? Tetrahydrocannabinol or THC, the main psychoactive ingredient in cannabis. Anandamide (ANA) has inspired the title of Karan Madhok's new book Ananda: An Exploration of Cannabis in India (₹999; Aleph).

When Madhok was approached by Aleph to write a book on cannabis, he agreed despite the stigma around it , in order to understand better. "Cannabis is something that a lot of us have an idea of, but we are not 100 percent sure what it actually means, what is legal, abd what is not because no one talks about it openly," he says.



The process took around two years, during which Madhok travelled across Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand, Karnataka, Kerala, as well as Delhi and Mumbai. These details came up in the book discussion held at India International Centre (IIC), in Delhi.

The criminal code

The book reads, "As an activity closely tied to Indian spirituality, British missionaries in India also disapproved of the use of cannabis." This was followed by a 3,000-page report on the study of cannabis. On this basis, moderate amounts of hemp consumption was declared harmless.

"I was born just a year before the NDPS law," Madhokwrites. The bill for Narcotics Drugs and Psychotropic Substances or the NDPS Act, was passed in 1985. The Act, based on the promises of the 1961 UN Treaty, defines cannabis as – "charas, that is, separated resin", "ganja, that is, the flowering or the fruiting of tops of the cannabis plant" or "any mixture, with or without any neutral material, of any of the above forms of cannabis or any drinks prepared therefrom", with the exception of bhaang.

During the discussion discussion, legal expert Dr Khagesh Gautam argued for decriminalising small quantities. "You can't become [Colombian drug lord] Pablo Escobar by selling 20 grams of weed," he noted, adding that India needs clear and consistent standards on criminalisation. Madhok shares data from Visakhapatnam, where nearly 85 percent of the local central jail comprises cannabis offenders, while trafficking networks remain largely untouched. "Cannabis is easy to catch and prosecute because it grows so much in India," he observes.

Holy herb or hunted crop?

While bhaang (an edible form of cannabis made from the plant's leaves) is sold at government-licensed shops in cities like Varanasi, the same plant in another form – ganja or charas – can put people behind bars for years.

According to Dr Gautam, also present at the discussion, one doesn't necessarily need to wait for festivals like Shravan, Mahashivratri, or Holi. "Bhaang and Shiva go hand in hand with the daily lifestyle of many in Varanasi," he said. Shops in the city's old lanes with signs reading 'Sarkari Bhaang Ki Dukaan', government-authorised shops that run on licenses, often displaying images of Lord Shiva or the Shivling. Akhadas, the traditional training grounds for wrestlers and martial artists, also form a part of this system. "Pehlwans have a daily glass of bhaang, mixed with fresh cow milk, to aid concentratio," he said.

Madhok recounts a visit to a hemp expo, where the plant enjoys a trendy image. "It is surreal," the author expresses. "These came from the same farms where police were raiding farmers."

Breaking myths

Language is another medium of shaping stigma. Unlike the word 'bhaang', terms like 'charas' or 'ganja' immediately trigger fear of crime. "Even I feel guilty just saying those words," Madhok laughs.

Talking about medicinal cannabis (prescribed to relieve symptoms of conditions like chemotherapy-induced nausea, epilepsy, and others), Dr Gautam shares a story about hemp oil helping his mother's arthritis. "It works," he said. Madhok adds that even public health experts acknowledge cannabis is less harmful than often believed, though they hesitate to endorse it.Madhok's book is a subjective exploration of the plant from multiple angles – including insights from experts in medicine, chemical research, and farmers. Taking examples from India and abroad, he points out that even in countries with progressive cannabis policies, "there's a lot of debate, a push and pull about it."

He further advises readers and policymakers to look beyond fear and hearsay, engaging with evidence and expert perspectives to form their own understanding of this controversial plant.

[People are unsure] what it actually means, what is legal, and what is not because no one talks about it openly

— Karan Madhok, author

Spy thriller explores revival of global underground network

Return of Odessa (₹1,510; Amazon) marks the final work of Frederick Forsyth, co-written with Tony Kent, returning to the world of The Odessa File. Set in 2025, the story opens with a senator's death in Washington, an attack at a Berlin football match, and a killing in a German hospital, all linked by one truth: the ODESSA network has resurfaced. Drawing from real intelligence experience, Forsyth and Kent create a narrative grounded in espionage and global tension. The book unites Forsyth's legacy with Kent's insight as a criminal barrister, closing a chapter in modern spy fiction. Forsyth, also known for The Day of the Jackal, passed away in June 2025.

Percy Jackson universe gets new instalment

After the success of international bestseller The Sun and the Star, author Rick Riordan has returned with The Court of the Dead (Penguin Random House; ₹699), the newest instalment in the Percy Jackson Universe, written alongside Mark Oshiro. After surviving the deepest pits of the underworld, demigods Nico di Angelo and Will Solace travel to Camp Jupiter to help Hazel Levesque manage a new challenge. When monsters start mysteriously disappearing and a dark force rises, the demigods discover the danger is closer than they could have imagined.

Dealing with the last quarter of the year

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon

(Writer, comedian)

SO it has happened – ladies, gentlemen, and friends beyond the binary. The last three months of the year have arrived. It's the phase where we recalibrate the targets and goals we set at the beginning of the year. I am no scientist, but I firmly believe that time has begun to fly by much more quickly since the pandemic. Since that ill-fated year when time and space began to mean different things to us – usual pegs of time such as months and years have begun to mean less and less to us all.

While we human beings might credit ourselves as the apex creatures on Earth, we are not very different from hamsters running inside the wheel of time. It begins in the first quarter, from January to March. That is when our goals are fresh, our dreams are piping hot. Health goals are discussed, and financial dreams are set in motion through new, shiny pipelines. The journals are journaling, the planners are planning, and the supplements are supplementing. It's still winter, so most of us are stylish versions of ourselves. Life is good.

Then comes the second quarter – from April to June. Even though the clock is ticking, we don't take it too seriously. Years spent crumbling under the Indian education system have made us Pavlov's Students – we automatically associate the months of April and May with summer vacations. As the sun begins to smile warmly, we retire into our flats and dust off the ACs. The goals become a little flexible, but we are all busy with the end of the financial year. Tax details become taxing, and TDS forms become tedious forms. But a silver lining appears in the form of an orange fruit – the mango. As we consume mangoes like fiends, the heat of this quarter seems like a worry that can be washed down with buttermilk. Life is reasonably okay.

It is in the third quarter that we are truly caught off guard. Summer gives way to the rains. Snails crawl out of their shells, and RJs begin chirping about Ilayaraja and samosas. After the intense heat of the previous quarter, the months of July - September seem like the first half of a rom-com. This is also the quarter of festivals – Ganesh Chaturthi, Janmashtami, Rakhi, Onam and Navaratri. E-commerce sites know this, and tempt you with offers. A Bluetooth speaker? Sure! A jacket you'll never wear? Bring it on! You spend your nights recovering from parties and before you know it, the last quarter is looming over you.

A sense of existential dread arrives, as the sun completes the last leg of its lap around the sun. The goals lie forgotten in journals, planners and notes. Even though you pretend to be nonchalant about it all, the truth remains that most of your dreams haven't been achieved. But since I stand in the twilight of my 30s, I realise that goals are mere mirages. They are never fully fulfilled, and are shapeshifting boggarts who take the form of your biggest fears. I've been watching Jane Goodall videos for a week now, and she said something profoundly 'chimportant' in her interviews. Even someone as accomplished as her felt existential dread. Then who are we – mere mortal primates – to escape those thoughts? So this year, my crumbling dreams can take a hike. I shall order jackets and winterwear, and calmly watch the Earth complete its lap around the sun. To exist is to have existential dread. Everything else is digital marketing.

Director Prem awaits KD release; eyes Bollywood debut

The filmmaker, who is tight-lipped about his next move, is said to be in talks with B-Town production houses and actors, including Ajay Devgn

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR Prem is currently playing the waiting game as he is anticipating the release of his much-awaited Pan-India venture, KD. The film stars Dhruva Sarja alongside stalwarts like Ravichandran, Ramesh Aravind, and Sudeep. It also boasts Bollywood names such as Sanjay Dutt and Shilpa Shetty. Produced under KVN Productions, KD has, for reasons yet unexplained, faced delays, leaving fans and the team eager for clarity.

Meanwhile, Prem shared glimpses from the script pooja of the film at Mahakaleshwar, calling it "one of my biggest dreams." While he assured that the release date of KD will be announced soon, there are no signs of the film being released this year. When we reached out to Prem, he admitted that the makes are waiting for the perfect moment to announce it. But the excitement around KD has only grown.

While KD release remains under wraps, Prem has been quietly busy with another script, one he's been nurturing for a while. Sources hint that the Kannada filmmaker is eyeing his Bollywood debut, and he's in talks with none other than Bollywood actor Ajay Devgn. He's also in talks with a few other production houses and actors. "I have met a few actors in Bollywood. And as a South director, the encouragement there has been heartening. I want to make an entry with a strong script," he says.

Meanwhile, Prem is not neglecting his next Kannada project. Alongside the Bollywood venture, he is reportedly working on a fresh Kannada film, keeping his loyal regional audience in mind. The director seems determined to balance both worlds. When asked about rumours of a collaboration with actor Darshan, he quipped, "Of course, whenever he is out of his legal issues, I will direct a film for him. He is like family," he said.

Rishith Shetty's coastal drama Maarnami to arrive this November

The film is headlined by Ritvvikk Mathad and Chaithra J Achar, and has a strong technical team

CE FEATURES

AS the festive lights of Dasara fade across Karnataka, a new celebration is set to rise, this time on the big screen. Maarnami, a title that echoes the very spirit of the coastal Dasara, marks filmmaker Rishith Shetty's latest creation as writer, director, and storyteller. The film is poised to bring the pulse of coastal Karnataka to life once again.

Headlined by Ritvvikk and Chaithra J Achar, Maarnami also features Sonu Gowda in a pivotal role. The ensemble cast includes Suman Talwar, Prakash Thuminad, Jyothish Shetty, Swaraj Shetty, Chaithra J Achar, Roop Varkady, and Chandrahass Ullal, adding depth to a story that captures regional authenticity and dramatic emotion. The story, penned by Sudhi Aryan, is expected to reflect the rhythm of the land.

Produced by Shilpa Nishant and Nishant Muniswamaiah under the Gunadhya Productions banner, the film brings together a strong technical team. While acclaimed composer Charan Raj scores the music, cinematography is by Shiva Sena, and production design is handled by Varadaraj Kamath. Arjun Raj, of Kantara fame, choreographs the stunts with Pratheek Shetty as editor, and Pramod Maravanthe as lyricist.

Shot over 70 days across the vibrant locales of Mangaluru, Maarnami unfolds against the backdrop of Hulivesha (Tiger Dance) traditions and the grandeur of the coastal Dasara. Blending romance, drama, sentiment, and action, the film celebrates both the festival and the human stories that emerge from its heart.

Following the stupendous success of Kantara: Chapter 1, which is doing well across multiple languages, Maarnami hopes to be the next big story from Karnataka's coast, one that feels both rooted and universal.

Koragajja set for a Pan-India release in six languages

CE FEATURES

AFTER Kantara Chapter 1, yet another film rooted in the spirit and tradition of coastal Karnataka is gearing up for release. Director Sudheer Attavar's Koragajja, produced by Trivikram Sapalya under Success Films and Trivikram Cinemas, is set for a grand Pan-India release in six languages, with the team eyeing to hit the theatres on November 28.

The film's first-look teaser and 3D motion poster were recently unveiled at a grand event that beautifully reflected the essence of coastal Karnataka.

The event began with a vibrant procession featuring the Dakshina Kannada instrumental ensemble and Udupi's all-women tiger dance troupe. Two massive cutouts of Koragajja were unveiled amid the rhythmic beats of traditional drums, horns, and cymbals — setting a festive tone. Dignitaries including former minister Motamma, producer-director Vijayalakshmi Singh, director Sudheer Attavar, producer Trivikram Sapalya, and the film's cast and crew offered floral tributes during the ceremony.

Speaking at the event, director Sudheer Attavar shared that the film's journey began three years ago and reached completion after several challenges. Produced by Trivikram Sapalya with National Award-winning producer Vidyadhar Shetty as executive producer, the film, he said, has been made without compromise.

Sudheer Attavar and Kabir Bedi

A still from the film

Koragajja features 31 songs composed by Gopi Sundar, sung by artists from across India. The story traces the spiritual journey of Koragajja, who attained divinity over two decades ago.

Producer Trivikram Sapalya shared that his long-standing friendship with Sudheer Attavar and his family's devotion to Koragajja inspired him to take up the project. He added that the film brings together experienced actors and technicians, and the team is confident of releasing it by the end of November.

Veteran filmmaker Vijayalakshmi Singh recalled that the project was first initiated by Jai Jagadish years ago, before finding its way to Sudheer Attavar. She noted that the grandeur of the first-look event mirrors the film's scale and ambition. Actor Bhavya, who plays Queen Panjandayi, expressed her joy at being part of the film and the "unforgettable experience" of working with Kabir Bedi.

Actor Shruti, portraying Koragajja's foster mother, shared that she shot an intense 28-hour sequence, praising the director's passion and perseverance. She expressed hope that the film reaches audiences across India with the blessings of Koragajja.

Ikkis first look out

CE FEATURES

The first look of Agastya Nanda's upcoming war drama Ikkis, directed by Sriram Raghavan, was unveiled by the filmmakers on Tuesday.

Maddock Films, the production company backing the movie, shared two posters from the movie, both featuring Agastya. The first look was timed on the birth anniversary of Arun Khetarpal, the youngest recipient of the Param Vir Chakra, on whom Ikkis is based. Arun achieved martyrdom during the Battle of Basantar in the 1971 Indo-Pakistan War. He was 21 when martyred. The film also stars Dharmendra, Jaideep Ahlawat, and Sikander Kher, and marks the debut of Simar Bhatia, Akshay Kumar's niece.

CINEMA WITHOUT BORDERS

In this weekly column, the writer introduces you to powerful cinema from across the world

NAMRATA JOSHI

COMING of age can often become a reductive umbrella term, bypassing the many layers and nuances of transitioning to adulthood for platitudinous narratives. However, Los Angeles-based filmmaker of Singaporean origin Siyou Tan's debut feature film, Amoeba, does the opposite, building on and broadening the ambit of the rite of passage cinema. It is a refreshingly astute and insightful exploration of a teenage girl's inner transformation and personal assertiveness within the confines of a distinct and defined national and socio-cultural context. It's about breaking free from a controlled environment to find one's identity, worldview, and place in life.

Film: Amoeba

After the world premiere in Toronto and successful screenings in Busan, the English and Mandarin Chinese language Singapore-Netherlands-France-Spain-South Korea co-production has been travelling the global festival circuit and caught the viewers' attention at the recent Pingyao International Film Festival, bagging the Best Actress, Youth Jury, and Cinephilia Critics' awards. The film is about Singaporean teenager Choo Xin Yu (Ranice Tay) trying to film a ghost in her room who has been troubling her persistently. There are other troubles in life, especially at school. Such is the level of regimentation in her school that the length of the skirts of the students are measured to ensure they don't defy the dictated, modest limits. Hair has to be above the collar, and no bra strap should show. Moral uprightness and diligence are desired qualities. In such a regulated environment and highly competitive education system, Choo Xin Yu finds it tough to fit in, belong, and thrive. She doesn't want to be the class monitor, which she thinks is akin to being the teacher's servant.

In the middle of this chaos, she befriends three other kindred rebellious spirits, Vanessa Ooi, Sofia Tay, and Gina Wong (Nicole Lee Wen, Shi-An Lim, Genevieve Tan, respectively), who feel equally smothered by the many rules in the school, the autocratic ways of the teachers, not to forget the corporal punishment. They hang out at a construction site, dig out, and discover relics. What also brings them together is the shared interest in the triad gangs who are supposed to have ruled the streets of Singapore during colonial times. They inspire them to form a gang of their own as an act of resistance. But how will the devil-may-care attitude of the gang be tolerated in Singapore, a country that is a stickler for rules? Jack Kao plays Uncle Phoon, Sofia's chauffeur, who is the wind beneath their wings. He is their only confidant, the one who stokes the creative resistance. As they go about showing their middle finger to the world, things come to a head when the camcorder recordings of their gang activities get discovered by their teacher, and expulsion looms large.

The unruly, erratic, fits-and-spurts narrative reflects the disorderliness and capriciousness of the girls' lives. Much of the film's strength derives from Ranice Tay's performance. She is mesmerising as the adolescent Choo Xin Yu, at times uncertain and skittish but largely confident, spunky and intrepid in dealing with life's many challenges and conflicts, including becoming aware of her unrealized queerness. Siyou Tan is sympathetic in dealing with the dilemmas of the young women. Tan is equally adept in using the young feminine angst as a metaphor to dwell on a nation in ferment and the thin line that separates discipline and efficiency from control and conformism.

Tan also plays dexterously with the idea of history and myth-making and memories and inheritances with Singapore's mascot, Merlion, as the dominant metaphor. The stories that are transmitted across generations, as opposed to the supposed truisms that we are made to accept unquestioningly. Most so, how the shared past has a bearing on our collective present and the future, and needs to be retrieved and reclaimed to find our own individual liberation.

CE FEATURES

REKHA Sagar, who played Mallamma in KGF Chapter 2, is now stepping away from her familiar roles to take on something far tougher: the harsh realities of street life. Her latest film, Beedi Baduku, directed by Purushotham Omkar, who also wrote the story, screenplay, dialogues, and lyrics, tells the story of a woman who ekes out a living selling snacks by the roadside while battling relentless hardships to provide for her young son.

Rekha Sagar

At the recent teaser launch, Rekha spoke about the personal challenge the role presented. "I wanted to push myself with a role like this. I spent time in real slums to understand the lives of these women. Their courage, their daily struggles, it's humbling. I knew I had to bring that authenticity to the screen."

Purushotham emphasised the film's commitment to realism. "We shot in actual slums, crematoriums, and hospitals for 25 days. Every location captures the truth of their lives. It's a story of a mother's fight, the humiliation she endures, and her relentless effort to secure her child's future. Audiences will feel her journey deeply."

A strong technical team backs the film. Raj Bhaskar has composed the music for the film, Muthuraj has handled the cinematography, and Anil Kumar served as editor. "Our aim isn't just to tell a story," Rekha added. "We want people to empathise with those in need and see the world through their eyes."

With post-production finished, Beedi Baduku is now set to finalise its release date.
